The applications filed for written examination are increasing, a natural result of the reported increase in enrollment in the various medical colleges claimed for the year closing June 30, 1924, as the largest since 1912.

In California the number of graduates of the medical departments of the University of California and Stanford applying for examination in 1925 was larger than in the previous year. Applications filed by graduates of extra state medical schools (an increasing number from foreign medical institutions) have been steadily increasing for the past few years, ranging from 111 in 1922 to 196 in 1925.

Foreign credentials are often difficult to verify, particularly when issued in those countries so radically upset by the world war.

Legislative enactment, now in force in many states, exacting United States citizenship as one of the requirements for application, is worthy of serious consideration.

CERTIFICATES ISSUED.

The tabulation of the total number of certificates issued during 1925 shows that the falling off in numbers mentioned in the 1924 report was continued in 1925. The reciprocity class absorbed the larger part of this loss, amounting to 111, and a loss of income amounting to $11,100. This is partially compensated by the increase in certificates of all classes issued after a written examination.

DISTRIBUTION OF RECIPROCITY LICENTIATES.

The following tabulation shows the various states that during the past year have sent us successful reciprocity applicants, together with the total number accepted from each state under the provisions of section 13.

Comparison with the report of 1924 demonstrates that Illinois, ranking third in the United States in the total number of physicians licensed, has again sent us the largest number of successful applicants. New York, which shows the largest United States registration of physicians, sent us the second largest group while Pennsylvania, the second largest in registered physicians, sent us but nine as compared with 16 in 1924.

WRITTEN EXAMINATION STATISTICS.

Graduates of California medical schools still maintain the same creditable standing in state board examinations with a "perfect score" for Stanford University and the University of California medical schools, not a graduate of our state institution having failed in an examination before the Board of Medical Examiners for the past sixteen years.

The total number of applicants who wrote any of the four examinations held during 1925 and the results are reflected in the following table:

HEARINGS.

Section 14 of the medical act specifies what constitutes unprofessional conduct for which a licentiate may be called before the board to show cause why his license should not be revoked and outlines the procedure, namely, filing of a sworn complaint charging a violation of a specific subdivision of section 14, thereupon requiring the secretary to issue a citation calling the licentiate before the board at the next regular meeting; service of citation and copy of complaint on the accused who must file a written answer within twenty days next after service of citation. The respondent appears, with or without counsel, at the next meeting and a formal hearing is held, the evidence transcribed by an official court reporter. The rules of evidence are followed as nearly as is possible in such hearing. After the evidence has been submitted, often requiring hours and sometimes two days for one case, the board goes into executive session as does the jury in the superior court, then in open session with respondent and counsel present, pronounces its judgment. Thereafter the respondent, if he be dissatisfied with the decision, has recourse to a writ calling for a review of the case by the courts.

The number of hearings of licentiates charged with violation of the Medical Practice Act during the past year was less than in 1924 when several time-consuming hearings incident to the diploma mill expose caused a decided increase in the legal expenses due to transportation of witnesses, cost of lengthy transcripts of each hearing, etc.

Seventeen licentiates were called before the board in 1925, namely:

LEGAL REPORT OF SOUTHERN DISTRICT—1925.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 31, 1925.

DEAR DR. PINKHAM:

A brief synopsis of the enclosed report shows that during 1925 there were 64 cases filed in the Southern District, which resulted as follows: 39 guilty; 18 pending (5 of these are fugitives, who have never been apprehended); 3 not guilty; and 4 dismissed. There has been paid into court in fines and bail forfeitures during 1925 the sum of $3,250. Ten complaints in revocation of license proceedings have been filed.

Owing to the fact for several years the prosecution of violations of the Medical Practice Act was left almost entirely to our special prosecutor, we have in some cases been handicapped by having a prosecutor who has had little or no experience in handling these cases. At the present time, however, we have the full cooperation of local officers in almost every county in our district, and in most district attorneys' offices we are able to get some deputy who has had more or less experience in similar cases.

As fast as the crop of violators is harvested, however, others are growing up; there seems to be an endless supply. And the most remarkable thing about it all is the fact that no matter how utterly ridiculous the system practiced by some of these fakers, there are always plenty of patients who are willing to pay enormous prices for their treatments.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) ALBERT CARTER, Special Agent.

SEGREGATION OF FINES RECEIVED DURING 1925.

The Board of Medical Examiners always has been opposed to the policy of seeking imposition of a fine in the instance of those guilty of violation of the medical act for in many instances (and this is particularly true of the Chinese herbalists) the imposition of a fine is regarded as a necessary "tax," payment of which authorizes the guilty one to continue his violation of the law until again brought before the court. Our policy is to enforce compliance with the law and we feel this is best accomplished by pronouncing a commitment sentence suspended for a period of six months to two years (depending on the seriousness of the offense) conditional on compliance with the law during the period of suspension. Despite this policy, the income from fines during 1925 exceeded that of 1924.

ENFORCEMENT.

The monthly reports of the special agents show that 93 special investigations have been made in the North and 217 in the South. As the result of these investigations, 35 complaints charging violation of the Medical Practice Act have been filed in northern California and 64 in southern California.

Twenty-seven preliminary hearings and eighteen superior court trials were held in northern California whereas forty-eight preliminaries and but six superior court trials were held in southern California. The report shows that the majority of the defendants in southern California plead guilty. The charter of Los Angeles provides for trial in the police court where the action is often terminated by a plea of guilty.

The results accomplished are shown by the following table:

	North	South
Dismissed	8	1
Acquitted	4	0
Plead guilty	4	25
Convicted	7	0
Miscellaneous	7	44
Pending	18	9
Totals	48	79

In our bookkeeping procedure the expenses of the special agents should not be confused with the expenses of the legal department. The former represents the expenditures of special agents in their investigation of reported violations of the Medical Practice Act, whereas in the expenses of the legal department are included transportation of witnesses in hearings before the Board of Medical Examiners, the cost of transcripts, expenses of our Chief Counsel in attending board meetings as well as his expenses arising from his appearance as representative of the board in Los Angeles, Sacramento, etc., where court actions may be brought in an attempt to stop the board from hearing a specific case, an attack on the constitutionality of a certain section of the law, an appeal from the judgment of the board or any other legal proceedings common in the operation of a quasi-judicial body such as is the Board of Medical Examiners.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, January 4, 1927.

HON. CLEMENT CALHOUN YOUNG,
Governor of the State of California,
Sacramento, California.

YOUR EXCELLENCY: Conforming with the provisions of Section 2 of the Medical Practice Act of the State of California, Charles B. Pinkham, M.D., Secretary-Treasurer of the Board of Medical Examiners, has the honor of respectfully presenting for your consideration the annual report showing the activities of this branch of the state government for the calendar year 1926.

Respectfully submitted.

CHARLES B. PINKHAM, M.D.,
Secretary-Treasurer.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MEDICAL EXAMINERS FOR THE YEAR 1926.

One of the outstanding matters that has come to the attention of the Board of Medical Examiners more impressively during the past year, although complaints have been filed for several years, is the disastrous result of the local application of poisons on the part of those who, although not licensed under the laws of this State, are, through legal technicalities, permitted to promiscuously apply escharotic poisons in local treatments. There are many instances in which death does not occur where, however, the toxic effect on the individual's kidneys of these locally applied poisons has definitely shortened the life of the victim.

THE BEAUTY SPECIALIST.

In a vain search for perpetual youth, the male as well as the female harkens to the convincing arguments and alluring advertisements of the myriad of beauty specialists, the majority untrained, who by surgical operation or by local applications of potent escharotics seek to remove the evidence of advancing years by the so-called "lifting process" or by the "filling process" or by the "face-peeling process."

The well-trained, skilled plastic surgeon has produced some marvelous results in the remodelling of countenances disfigured by accident, in the rejuvenation of faces seared with the wrinkles of age, and as well has restored the faces, necks, etc., of those who, having submitted to the so-called "filling" process, find appearing as time advances disfiguring nodules, ridges, etc., that become embarrassingly prominent at the point where paraffin oil or some similar preparation has been hypodermically injected in an effort to eradicate wrinkles, to fill out a scrawny neck or to build up a flattened bust.

Some of the photographs of victims whom the beauty specialists have subjected to the "filling" process are pitiful to gaze upon. The countenances of many are ruined forever, inasmuch as the injected oil is rapidly encapsulated by newly formed connective tissue and thereby made irremovable.

Some time ago the Board of Medical Examiners convicted a beauty specialist who maintained a luxurious office in San Francisco and boasted a most select clientele, with a correspondingly handsome income. Complaints alleging unsightly results following her "filling" operations were not infrequent. Unfortunately the protestants would not testify in court, pride leading them to refuse public acknowledgement that vanity had caused their disfigurement. However, came a matron whose eyelids had been "filled" so full of this "specialist's" secret oil formula that there remained but a fractional space between the upper and lower lids through which this poor victim could see. A conviction followed by a fine of $600.00 stopped the "filling" activities of this individual, assumedly well aware of the serious results from "filling," for her face is marred by a scar extending from ear to ear along the underside of her inferior maxilla and another at the base of the nose, both resulting from operative procedure, apparently in an attempt to remove some disfigurement following the use of a "filler."

Widely exploited in the advertising columns of our Sunday papers, "face peeling" is a procedure quite universally followed in an endeavor to restore the bloom of youth to those who abhor the wrinkles of advancing years. Dangerous in the extreme is this process, for therein lurks DEATH, whether at the hands of the skilled or unskilled.

The active ingredient in the majority of "face peel" preparations is reported as either carbolic acid, salicylic acid, bichloride of mercury or some other poison whose toxicity is well known to the medical graduate. These dangerous poisons in varying strength, are compounded in the majority of "face peel" preparations promiscuously used by so-called beauty specialists, totally unfamiliar with poisons and their antidotes.

It is related that the so-called "face peel" requires treatment of from two to three days. The procedure varies from brushing the face with a carbolic acid solution to the application of a paste composed of salicylic acid, bichloride of mercury or other poison. The victim's face is then covered by a mask, at times made of adhesive plaster, applied in narrow strips one overlapping the other. It is related that a profuse purulent discharge, often saturating the upper clothing of the victim, marks the destruction of the corium to true skin, and the patient's eyelids swell until almost shut. At a stated time the mask is removed and peroxide of hydrogen as well as emollient dressings are applied to encourage the growth of new skin. Ofttimes the results of this painful treatment are disappointing, for in place of the coveted skin "like that of a newborn babe," there exists a peculiar livid glazed appearance of the face, a constant reminder that youth once passed cannot be recalled.

Some years ago Martin J. Colbert visited a San Francisco beauty parlor to have a facial blemish removed. Carbolic acid was applied. Colbert suffered great pain and an anæsthetic was administered. Death followed. The autopsy and inquest determined that Colbert's death was due to the application of carbolic acid to the face and the use of an anæsthetic when the patient was not physically fit to stand the shock.

George Blaha sought treatment of a beauty specialist in Los Angeles, who attempted the removal of freckles by an application said to be a mixture of carbolic acid and chloroform, although the coroner's jury reported his death resulted from the administration of chloroform to ease the pain caused by the carbolic acid beauty lotion.

Mrs. Jessie Gilchrist, reputed wealthy Pasadena real estate operator, not long ago submitted to the ministrations of a local beauty specialist in her quest for loveliness and found death instead. The autopsy surgeon testified the beauty lotion, a carbolic acid solution, had been spread over Mrs. Gilchrist's "face, neck, hands, arms, chest and shoulders. The autopsy showed the vital organs of the deceased were normal and that death had been caused by phenol (carbolic acid) being absorbed in the blood stream and destroying brain tissue. * * * County Chemist Walker's report showed phenol in the brain."

Louise Wulbers of San Jose sought rejuvenation at the hands of a Los Angeles physician who was reported to have journeyed to San Francisco for this express purpose, and who related his treatment of the deceased as follows: "She wanted the wrinkles taken out of her forehead. First I sponged the face with a mixture of ether, water and epsom salts to take out the grease and fatty substances. * * * Next I applied a solution of phenol, which is a derivative of carbolic acid diluted with water and glycerine. Then the lady suddenly collapsed." The coroner's jury held that death was the result of shock and the absorption of carbolic acid, making the recommendation that legislation be enacted to prohibit the use of carbolic acid or its agents by beauty specialists in beauty treatments.

Not long since Sallie Lytton, operating a beauty parlor in Pasadena, was induced by a canvassing agent to purchase a bottle of "face bleach" and a package of cucumber lotion, manufactured by a Los Angeles corporation bearing the name of one well known in moving picture circles. Following the directions on the package, she applied to her face and neck the face bleach, followed by the cucumber lotion and by evening she was reported suffering intense pain wherever the application had been made, being unable to see or speak. In a few days death ended her agony. It was reported this "face bleach" contained a dangerous amount of bichloride of mercury. As a sequel seven warrants were reported recently issued in Los Angeles, charging the sale of a beauty preparation containing bichloride of mercury without recording the names of purchasers or the purpose for which it was to be used.

Mrs. Ida Russell, prominent club woman, seeking the removal of some skin blemishes, died in San Francisco following treatment by a beauty specialist and the coroner's jury related death may have resulted from the application of carbolic acid. The coroner's jury made the following recommendation: "We strongly recommend that the Board of Health eliminate treatment by beauty specialists in which poison of any nature is used and that stringent laws should be enacted to permanently abolish this practice."

The London Lancet, December 16, 1922, page 1273, printed a report of a man who unknowingly broke a bottle of phenol in his pocket and within an hour died from phenol poisoning by absorption through the skin. The same article relates an instance in which pure carbolic acid applied to the skin of the back caused coma and death in twenty minutes.

Recently a case was reported from Indiana of one who through the mail purchased a certain cosmetic treatment. When applied as directed most severe burns resulted, though fortunately without a fatal termination, and an analysis showed 73 per cent. phenol in the mixture.

From New York came a recent report of severe chemical burns accompanied by intense suffering and excessive swelling of the face, the victim stating his condition resulted from the use of "Youth-Ami Skin Peel", which a chemical analysis showed contained a large amount of salicylic acid.

Text books on legal medicine and medical jurisprudence mention the serious and even fatal results of local applications of phenol.

Arkansas, Connecticut, Illinois, Louisiana, Missouri, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah and Wisconsin have enacted laws licensing cosmeticians without denying them the right to use poisons generally. The opening gun in California was fired by the introduction of a beauty specialist bill in the 1925 legislature and a heavy barrage will be laid down in the 1927 legislature, it being rumored that a bill backed by a large fund will be introduced which will provide for a board to license beauty specialists, cosmeticians, etc., and permitting them to do about everything from barbering to using poisonous drugs in local applications.

Our present laws are totally inadequate to protect the public against the use of "face peels." The Medical Practice Act prohibits treating * * * ailments of the human system and both judge and jury hold that wrinkles and freckles can not be classed as an "ailment," hence the prosecution fails and the "slaughter of the innocents" continues.

The danger of local application of so-called "face peel" preparations, so glaringly evident, demands stringent legislation that will prohibit the use of these poisonous cosmetics by so-called beauty specialists, cosmeticians, etc. It is hoped that a way may be found to so amend the phraseology of Section 17 of the Medical Act that the Board of Medical Examiners is given the power sustained by the courts of this state, to successfully prosecute so-called beauty specialists, cosmeticians, etc., who resort to local application of well known poisons in "face peeling" practice.

APPOINTMENTS.

The personnel of the Board of Medical Examiners has been materially changed during the year just closed, effected by the resignation of Lemuel Adams, M. D. and the appointment of Clark L. Abbott, M. D., Oakland, effective November 6th, 1926. Walter V. Brem, M. D. of Los Angeles was succeeded by H. Miller Robertson, M. D., Santa Ana, effective April 8, 1926. Junius B. Harris, M. D. resigned and was succeeded by James L. Maupin, M. D., Fresno, appointed December 29, 1926, to fill the unexpired term. Albert K. Dunlap, M. D., Sacramento, appointed December 29, 1926, vice Harry V. Brown, M. D., term expired. William H. Geistweit, Jr., M. D., San Diego, appointed December 29, 1926, vice John C. Yates, M. D., term expired.

CREDENTIALS.

Each year of administrative experience brings its convincing lesson that eternal vigilance must be exercised lest applicants presenting credentials from another state may gain the right to practice in California through dishonest procedure, fake credentials, etc. The diploma mill exposè in 1924 disclosed amazing irregularities not only in the granting of medical diplomas, but also licenses to practice in certain states. In turn other states were imposed upon by innocently accepting on a reciprocity basis applicants whose license to practice in their home state had been obtained by fraud. Watchful care of our California Board minimized imposition. Two individuals who gained entrance had their California licenses revoked, but have tied the hands of the board for practically two years by recourse to a writ to review the findings of the board in revoking their licenses.

Two other individuals whose credentials are suspicious have forfeited their California licenses through failure to pay the annual tax and refusal of restoration will develop a court action which will decide the question although we anticipate the applicants, knowing the quality of the credentials on which California registration was secured, will make no contest.

Assuming the name and thereby obtaining the credentials of a legitimate practitioner is a scheme used in attempting to obtain a license by reciprocity and the procedure may be easy of execution if the home state does not demand a photograph (with affidavit) of their licentiate for careful comparison with the photograph attached to the original application on which the license was issued. Executive officers of state boards are frequently careless in indorsing the credentials.

Credentials from foreign countries, irregularily obtained, seem growing in number, particularly from Russian sources.

Not long since an applicant for written examination confessed that through fraud he obtained an official blank sealed and signed with the Registrar's name from the University of Vermont. On this printed blank for official report of medical courses pursued this applicant wrote his grades in the subjects of instruction that it might appear he had successfully completed his work for the freshman, sophomore and junior years in medical college. He then sent these forged credentials to one of our southern California medical schools, since closed, which on the transcript and evidently without further investigation granted him senior standing, thereafter at the end of the year granting him the degree "Doctor of Medicine" as evidenced by the medical diploma of this college. The college president recently wrote that he had requested the return of this diploma for cancellation, but we have no idea that the holder will so easily part with such a valuable document. Although this individual has failed in examination in other states, California was the only one that discovered his duplicity and he has shaken the dust of our fair state from his feet in search of pastures more verdant, at least as to credentials. It is urged that registrars of medical colleges use greater care in assuring themselves of the identity of an individual before acceding to a request to furnish a transcript of a medical course.

The duplicate certificate also offers a fertile field for the impostor to attempt to secure a license either on a dead man's credentials or on credentials of an individual that may be living in obscurity in another state. California with its excellent records extending as far back as 1878, despite its host of licenses nearing 40,000 issued, does not offer an alluring field for this class of impostor. One such was recently discovered who some years ago had secured a duplicate license on the credentials of a licentiate recently proven to have died in New York City in 1903. The impostor's license was promptly revoked.

Legislation is urged that will make it a felony to peddle, issue, barter or sell fraudulent credentials to be used in connection with a license to practice medicine and surgery in California.

Legislation which will curtail the incorporation and operation of quasi-fraudulent institutions or "sundown" colleges in the State of California, as urged in prior reports, is again advanced for earnest consideration. Our lax corporation laws permit a small number of individuals without demand as to educational qualifications to incorporate an asserted educational institution under any euphonious name, obtain authority to issue degrees of all kinds and thereby obtain money from the credulous. So long as lax state laws permit the incorporation of "sundown" institutions, clothed with statutory authority to grant professional degrees without exaction of a capable teaching force, satisfactory equipment and honest management, the incorporators of such institutions, careless of human sacrifice, will continue to line their pockets with ill gotten gains through the selling of degrees. California unfortunately is one state where about three individuals with approximately $12.50 to spend can incorporate any kind of a nonprofit-sharing college and issue any kind of a degree without molestation.

MEETINGS.

The Board of Medical Examiners of the State of California has held three regular meetings during the year 1926, i.e., in Los Angeles in March, San Francisco in July and Sacramento in October. Written examinations for physicians and surgeons, drugless practitioners, chiropodists and midwives were held at each meeting. In addition to the routine business matters and written examinations, legal hearings consumed a larger portion of the time at the March and July meetings, but not so strenuously exacting at the October meeting.

ORAL EXAMINATIONS.

The board has continued the system inaugurated in 1925 of holding oral examinations, required by section 13 of a certain class of reciprocity applicants, coincidently in San Francisco and Los Angeles, on dates other than regular meetings, thereby relieving the board of a duty at regular meetings that has heretofore seriously interfered with the expeditious disposal of legal hearings which under the law require the constant attention of seven members comprising the quorum prescribed under section 4. The same seven members must hear a citation case to its final conclusion, which makes most undesirable the partial hearing of a case at one meeting and the continuance of the further hearing to the next meeting at least three months later. Such a procedure is of decided advantage to the respondent called before the board charged with some violation of the law. If a hearing be continued there is always the possibility that one or more members who have partially heard a case may, on account of illness or for some other reason, be unable to be present at the next hearing, and as a consequence the further hearing cannot proceed to the final termination unless respondent's attorney stipulates that all members present at said meeting have heard all the testimony.

Four oral examinations were held during the year 1926, the larger number of applicants reporting for examination in Los Angeles.

An amendment to section 13 of the Medical Act is suggested which will require an oral examination of every reciprocity applicant whose application is based on a license issued by a sister state longer than ten years prior to the date of filing an application in California. An increasing number of states are requiring an oral examination of all applicants who seek registration through reciprocity. The prospect of facing an oral examination will also have a statutory effect in discouraging the filing of fraudulent credentials, the holder of such knowing he could not possibly successfully stand an oral test of his scant professional knowledge.

CERTIFICATES RESTORED.

During the past year the board has restored one revoked certificate, earnest consideration having been given the age of petitioner and the signed endorsement of all the medical men in his vicinity:

Bogue, Herbert, M. D., revoked March 10, 1926; restored October 20, 1926.

APPLICATIONS PENDING DECEMBER 31, 1925.

Reference to the 1925 report discloses that on December 31, 1925, applications of the following classes were pending final disposition, as evidenced by application fees on deposit:

A—Physician and surgeon	16
BB—Drugless practitioner	4
C—Physician and surgeon, reciprocity	76
CE—Reciprocity chiropodist	1
D—Physician and surgeon, government credentials	4
F—Midwife	3
Total	104

APPLICATIONS FILED 1926.

Although the total number of applications filed during 1926, when compared with that of previous years, shows a gradual diminution in the total number, yet the following table of "Applications Filed" shows an increase over 1925 in the number of reciprocity applications filed in 1926, although the total is considerably less than those filed in 1923 and 1924. We believe this loss has been due to the gradual readjustment of the post-war unrest which led so many physicians to seek new fields of endeavor.

The number of applications filed for written examination decreased, regardless of the reported increase in enrollment in the various medical colleges claimed for the year closing June 30, 1926, as the largest since 1911. This decrease in the number of applications filed was due to the College of Medical Evangelists having no graduating class in 1926, owing to a change in their college course.

In California the number of graduates of the medical department of the University of California and Stanford applying for examination in 1926 was larger than in the previous year. Applications filed by graduates of extra state medical schools (an increasing number from foreign medical institutions) have been steadily increasing for the past few years.

Foreign credentials are often difficult to verify, particularly when issued in those countries so radically upset by the world war. Evidence of irregularity is constantly discovered. Legislative enactment, now in force in many states, exacting United States citizenship as one of the requirements for application, is worthy of serious consideration.

CERTIFICATES ISSUED.

The tabulation of the total number of certificates issued during 1926 shows that the falling off in numbers mentioned in the 1925 report was continued in 1926. The reciprocity class showed 12 less than last year and the written examination class was 65 less than the previous year, due to the College of Medical Evangelists not graduating a class in 1926, this institution having sent 65 applicants to the written examination last year, according to the 1925 report.

DISTRIBUTION OF RECIPROCITY LICENTIATES.

The following tabulation shows the various states that during the past year have sent us successful reciprocity applicants, together with the total number accepted from each state under the provisions of section 13.

Comparison with the report of 1925 demonstrates that Illinois, ranking third in the United States in the total number of physicians licensed, has again sent us the largest number of successful applicants. New York, which shows the largest United States registration of physicians, sent us the second largest group, while Pennsylvania, the second largest in registered physicians, sent us but eight.

WRITTEN EXAMINATION STATISTICS.

Graduates of California medical schools still maintain the same creditable standing in state board examinations with a "perfect score" for Stanford University and the University of California medical schools, not a graduate of our state institution having failed in an examination before the Board of Medical Examiners for the past seventeen years.

The failure recorded against the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Medical Department, University of Southern California, was Ralph Putnam, who has since confessed presenting forged credentials of three years alleged course at the University of Vermont, thereby gaining senior standing and a medical diploma at the end of his senior year.

The total number of applicants who wrote any of the examinations held during 1926 and the results are reflected in the following table:

HEARINGS.

Section 14 of the Medical Practice Act specifies what constitutes unprofessional conduct and the various subdivisions make specific reference to causes for calling a licentiate before the board to show cause why his license should not be revoked for unprofessional conduct as specified therein. This section also outlines the procedure, namely, filing of a sworn complaint charging a violation of a specific subdivision of section 14, thereupon requiring the secretary to issue a citation calling the licentiate before the board at the next regular meeting; service of citation and copy of complaint on the accused who must file a written answer within twenty days next after service of citation. The respondent appears, with or without counsel, at the next meeting and a formal hearing is held, the evidence transcribed by an official court reporter.

Under the caption "Oral Examinations" we have related that seven members constitute a quorum and that the same seven members must hear a case to its conclusion even to the imposition of judgment, hence the danger in continuing a hearing or the imposition of judgment lest the same members, through illness or otherwise, are unable to attend the next hearing of a specific case.

The rules of evidence are followed as nearly as is possible in such hearing. After the evidence has been submitted, often requiring hours and sometimes two days for one case, the board goes into executive session as does the jury in the superior court, then in open session with respondent and counsel present, pronounces its judgment. Thereafter the respondent, if he be dissatisfied with the decision, has recourse to a writ calling for a review of the case by the courts.

Thirty-five licentiates were called before the board in 1926, namely:

LEGAL REPORT OF SOUTHERN DISTRICT.

Los Angeles, California, January 1, 1927.

CHARLES B. PINKHAM, M. D.,
Secretary-Treasurer Board of Medical Examiners,
Sacramento, California.

DEAR DR. PINKHAM: Submitted herewith is an annual report of the Investigation Department for the Southern District of the Board of Medical Examiners of the State of California for the year ending December 31, 1926.

Of the sixty-one cases initiated during 1926, thirty-four of the defendants pleaded guilty, thus saving the County or City the time and expense of a trial. Twelve of these paid fines and twenty-two were placed on probation or given suspended sentences. We have secured suspended jail sentences in many cases, believing that the fear of having to serve a term in jail is of more effect in preventing future violations than the payment of a fine.

Seven preliminary examinations were held, the defendant being held to answer in each case. Seven Superior Court trials resulted in five convictions, and one jury disagreement, and one still pending, submitted on briefs. Three municipal court trials resulted in one conviction, one found "not guilty" and one dismissed.

Of the seven defendants who have not been apprehended, five are either fugitives or have closed up their business and gone to parts unknown.

SEGREGATION OF FINES RECEIVED DURING 1926.

The Board of Medical Examiners always has been opposed to the policy of seeking imposition of a fine in the instance of those guilty of violation of the medical act, for in many instances (and this is particularly true of the Chinese herbalists) the imposition of a fine is regarded as a necessary "tax," payment of which authorizes the guilty one to continue his violation of the law until brought before the court. Our policy is to enforce compliance with the law and we feel this is best accomplished by pronouncing a commitment sentence suspended for a period of six months to two years (depending on the seriousness of the offense) conditional on compliance with the law during the period of suspension. Despite this policy, the income from fine during 1926 again exceeded that of the prior year.

ENFORCEMENT.

The problems of enforcement, discussed in the Bulletin of the Federation of Medical Examining Boards, 1921, page 15, and in our 1920 annual report, continue to spur our activities.

The proportion of investigations of violations of the Medical Practice Act made during 1926 by the northern and southern departments were about the same as shown on the 1925 report. Preliminary hearings and court trials were less in the Northern District, while the Southern District, wherein lies the larger majority of violators, has struggled valiantly to keep abreast of the time.

One of the disheartening features of the board's work is reflected in the delays offered by court procedure undertaken by those licensed to practice under the Medical Practice Act, who having been penalized after a conscientious hearing at a regular meeting of the board, thereafter invoke the "law's delay" through the medium of a writ of review or some similar legal process that results in tying the hands of the board.

Those whose licenses have been revoked have only to appeal for such a writ and then practice merrily on in defiance of the order of the board, for our experience has been that attempts to prosecute such individuals for violation are offered scant consideration, the court refusing to proceed with a hearing on the theory that nothing can be done until the higher courts decide on the merits of the writ of review, which in the present crowded state of court calendars means about two years' delay.

Although our chief counsel holds that the revocation of a license offers an estopment to continuation of practice, yet the magistrates of the lower courts will not proceed with the hearing of such an individual charged with violation of the law.

This is a serious situation, particularly in the instance of those whose California licenses have been revoked based on complaint of having been obtained on fraudulent credentials.

The following is a list of those who have been subject to discipline by the board and who are reported as continuing to practice:

Berry, J. L., revoked Sept. 21, 1919, still practicing;
Dyment, Philip, revoked July 8, 1924, reported still practicing;
Grisso, Davis, revoked Oct. 18, 1923, still practicing;
Lord, Frederick K., suspended one year March 9, 1926, reported still practicing under Writ of Review.
Rinaldo, Eugene J., revoked July 9, 1924, reported still practicing under Writ of Review;
Young, Frank P., revoked Oct. 22, 1924, reported still practicing under Writ of Review.

Commenting on this situation, which permits those whose licenses have been revoked to continue their practice, our Investigation Department suggests—

> "At the present time any physician whose license has been revoked (and it makes no difference how flagrant the violation) can, if he is able to employ a lawyer, reasonably expect to practice for several years. It is not necessary for him to spend much money on a case of this nature, as the stock in trade of attorneys in these writs of review cases is delay—delay and more delay.
> "About all an attorney has to do is to take advantage of every legal delay possible and his client can reasonably expect to practice the balance of his natural life before his case is decided."

Suggestion has been made that the Medical Act be so amended that a writ of review go directly to the appellate court, thus obviating the delay due to the crowded condition of the calendars in the superior courts.

Our Investigation Department, in discussing the charge that J. Lafayette Berry was continuing his practice regardless of the revocation of his license, relates:

> "Under the present law a physician whose license has been revoked by the Board of Medical Examiners can, theoretically be prosecuted for practicing without a license. * * * In actual practice, however, it cannot be done, as may be seen from the Berry and Rinaldo cases and others. * * *"

According to a report of our Investigation Department, the court recently refused to allow the prosecution of Eugene Rinaldo on a charge of violation of the Medical Practice Act, his license having been revoked in 1924 on a charge that he had obtained his California registration on fraudulent credentials. He thereafter brought a writ of review and the lower court will not entertain any action until such time as final disposition has been made of the writ of review, which according to our chief counsel will not be reached on the court calendar for at least another year, thus having given Rinaldo at least three years of grace.

DECEASED.

We have been endeavoring to keep an accurate check on all of those reported as physicians (whether licensed or not) who have died in the State of California, and also an accurate check on California licentiates who are reported as having died in other states. We find our notices re annual tax to be productive of much valuable information regarding the demise of individuals, particularly in other states, where no notice has heretofore reached our office. We have also made a check on old directories, medical journals and other sources of information to verify our record of deceased.

Our investigation of the deceased led us to the discovery of an individual named David (Oscar) Franklin, who, assuming the credentials of the genuine David Franklin licensed in California many years ago and who died in New York in 1903, thereafter conducted his practice in California. After a thorough investigation, citation was issued and Franklin's license, alleged to have been illegally obtained, was revoked at the last meeting of the board.

HON. GEORGE G. RADCLIFF,

Director of Purchases and Custody.

I submit herewith report of the work of the State Purchasing Agent's office, and also a report of the business of the stores division for the seventy-sixth and seventy-seventh fiscal years. The report is divided into the following classifications:

First.—Total purchases made for each of the institutions and the larger departments, showing the total value of purchases in the various commodity classifications for the institutions and more important departments, giving the total expenditures for materials and merchandise for each institution and department, and the grand total expenditures for all departments and institutions.

Second.—The report of San Francisco Harbor Commission Branch of the State Purchasing Agent's office giving the expenditure in the various classification of materials and the total of those expenditures, and other interesting data; also total purchases for the Los Angeles office.

Third.—Report of the business of the stores division.

Fourth.—Cost of administration of the Purchasing Agent's office at Sacramento; also cost of the branches in San Francisco and Los Angeles giving the percentage of cost of the function of purchasing.

Fifth.—Cost of operating the stores and distribution, and percentage of cost to business transacted; also statement of condition of revolving fund as of June 30, 1926.

Sixth.—Report of tests made by the Laboratory of the Highway Commission at the request of the Purchasing Agent, and the cost thereof.

Seventh.—A statement showing the prices on a number of staple lines of merchandise paid by the Purchasing Agent for each quarterly supply as compared with the jobbing or wholesale price on the same class and quality of merchandise for those same periods.

Eighth.—Some special examples presented to show how savings are made by the State Purchasing Agent's office by reason of our knowledge and experience in purchasing methods.

Ninth—Observations and suggestions for the good, and we believe, the betterment of state service.

TOTAL MONEY VALUE OF ALL COMMODITIES PURCHASED FOR EACH INSTITUTION AND DEPARTMENT.

Table I.—In this table are grouped various commodities purchased, according to dealers' lines as far as possible. The value of the purchases in each line of commodities for each of the institutions and larger departments is arranged in column order. The total value of the purchases in each commodity for all institutions and departments is shown in the extreme right-hand column. The footing at the bottom of this column shows the total value of all commodities purchased for all institutions and departments.

Table II.—In this table we show the total purchases in each commodity and the total purchases of all materials used on the San Francisco harbor and waterfront, as well as on the Belt Railroad. These purchases are handled by Lawrence E. Hobart and his assistants, under supervision of the main office.

The above report does not, of course, represent the total purchases made in Los Angeles by the state, because large purchases are made by the main office on the regular quarterly schedules. However, the direct purchases through the Los Angeles branch of the State Purchasing Agency could be increased very largely if we could secure better terms and more earnest competition from the merchants and manufacturers of the southern metropolis.

In this connection, let me invite your attention to Table I. A careful view of it discloses the fact that there are four state institutions within less than seventy-five miles of Los Angeles, and another one in the making at Pomona. The combined purchases of merchandise for these institutions for the biennium is $1,139,250.99. This business is directly tributary to Los Angeles, and her merchants ought to be able to win it in competition with all other communities because they have a distinct advantage in the delivery and transportation costs.

Table III.—In this table is given the value of merchandise handled through our stores in Sacramento, Capitol Building; San Francisco, in the Ferry Building, and in the Sun Finance Building, Los Angeles. In Sacramento and Los Angeles are carried only office and janitorial supplies, but in the Ferry Building, San Francisco, is carried in addition many other lines of staple nonperishable merchandise. This table shows the business done in each month and the total for the biennium.

COMPARISON OF PRICES PAID WITH MARKETS.

Comparison of prices paid by the purchasing agent on some staple commodities, with the quoted jobbing price on the same kind and quality of merchandise at time of purchase. A comparison of these prices will demonstrate to you, I think, that the prices secured by the purchasing agent are very favorable and that this office, by attention to detail and exercise of effort and judgment, is making a great saving for the taxpayer. Reference to this table will also indicate to you the fluctuations in price on a number of staples for the past two years.

NOTE.—The average market prices shown are the prices as taken from the wholesale paper dealers' catalogues, from which price has been deducted all discounts applicable on account of quantities purchased.

A study of the preceding tables will show you that the State of California is paying for its large quantities of staple merchandise from 10 to 25 per cent less than the quoted jobbing prices for those same staples, and that we will average at least 17½ per cent less in price than the regular jobbing prices for the entire eight quarters of the biennium. Multiply this by the millions of merchandise purchased, and you can not help but see that the state is saving approximately $2,000,000 each biennium by centralizing its purchasing power in the hands of trained buyers.

EXAMPLES OF SAVINGS.

A particular example of this is a comparison of price paid for D. G. sugar. The average market price given for each quarter is the average refinery quotation to the jobbers, and this is 25 cents per hundred pounds less than the jobber's price. You will note that we have paid for sugar for the entire two-year period an average of 30 cents per hundred pounds less than the refinery average, which in itself shows a saving of approximately $10,000 for the period.

It has been the practice of this department to carry in our stores division an ample stock of staple cotton piece goods, such as cheviots, denims, canton flannel, ginghams, muslins, suitings, sheetings, spreads, ticking, etc., and also such items as ladies' hose, men's socks and underwear which are used in the everyday issue of the various state institutions.

The reason for this supply stock is twofold. First—Rather than buy these items in small quantities at times when the different institutions may requisition them, purchases are made quarterly and in such quantities that will take care of our normal requirements for three months. Second—To insure prompt delivery to the institutions when they are in urgent need, as the quantities of some of the items which we use can not be had from the local wholesale houses and must be shipped from the mills, which would cause a delay of forty days before delivery could be made.

During the seventy-sixth fiscal year our purchases of the above items amounted to $137,739.51, and in the seventy-seventh fiscal year $114,736.19, making a total for the biennium of $252,475.70. These items are bought on an average profit to the successful bidder of 3 per cent, and we believe that we can say that this is 10 per cent less than any private concerns or public institutions are buying the same commodities—thereby showing an actual saving to the people of the state of California for the biennium of approximately $25,247.55.

We believe that this unusual condition has been brought about because we have standardized on certain staple brands of proven merit after years of manufacture and service, by advising the interested bidders in circular form the successful bidder and prices paid, thereby exciting the keenest competition.

On account of there being no demand for 27-inch ginghams by the retail trade, we were able to purchase 14,000 yards at 12½ cents per yard for merchandise that sold at 17½ cents per yard—thus showing a saving of 5 cents per yard, or a total of $700.

At times high class retail clothing stores wish to dispose of their surplus stocks, and whenever the opportunity occurs we take advantage of such offers. During the last two years we have purchased approximately 1100 men's suits of well known brands at an average price of $12.50 per suit that the dealers originally sold for $30 to $50 per suit, saving easily over the jobbers' prices an average of $10 per suit, or $11,000 on the lot.

We also purchased 200 dozen men's felt hats for $12 to $18 per dozen that were sold by the dealers for $4 to $7.50 each, saving easily over the jobber's price an average of $15 per dozen or $3,000 on the lot.

By carefully watching the market conditions and keeping in touch with the source of supply, we anticipated an advance in raw and boiled linseed oil, and in April of 1926 we bought 1100 gallons of raw linseed oil at 87 cents per gallon when the market price was $1.02 per gallon, thus showing an actual saving at the time of purchase of $453.75. However, inasmuch as the prices advanced to $1.09 and $1.12 per gallon before this quantity was used up, it would show a further saving of several hundred dollars.

During a year's time we used approximately 80,000 pounds of white lead in oil, and it has been the custom to contract for this white lead for periods of ninety days, delivery to be taken in quantities as wanted. By doing this we are able to show a saving of over 2 cents per pound, or approximately $1,600 per year. For example, the last quarter of the seventy-seventh fiscal year the price quoted by the manufacturer was 13¾ cents per pound in ton lots, f.o.b shipping point, whereas, we contracted at $0.1108 per pound f.o.b. any state institution.

These instances have been noted to show somewhat our methods of operation to secure savings apart from the general routine. Almost every day we are able to take advantage of some condition or information to make a saving.

SUGGESTIONS.

Contracts.

In many lines of standard merchandise used in large quantities by a great number of state departments we consider it good business to at times enter into long term contracts on standard merchandise, such as cement, fuel oil, tires and tubes, gasoline, and several other commodities used in very large quantities. Practically all the various activities of the state are taking advantage of these general contracts, particularly tires and tubes and gasoline, but every state agency should be included in contracts for fuel oil, cement and in fact all contracts where large quantities are used. In all such contracts, the advantage secured in price and service is very largely controlled by the quantity of merchandise under consideration, hence those quantities should include every requirement, or estimated requirement, of every department using the commodity.

STORE ROOMS AT INSTITUTIONS.

In line with my recommendation in former reports, I want to call attention to the inadequate store room facilities at several of the institutions, most notable among these being San Quentin. There is a crying need for a general commissary building on the water front at San Quentin where all material may be received and stored, and from which general store room the various activities at the prison should be served with merchandise of all sorts. All material destined for every activity at the prison should be received at this general commissary and kept in there until requisitioned by the department using the same.

In my judgment, enough could be saved in two years by such a control over their material to defray the entire cost of putting up such a building.

In every institution, where it is at all possible, the commissary building should be built in such a position as to be served by a spur track in order to save excessive handling and consequent damage to goods by so much handling.

The present store room of the State Purchasing Agent in the Ferry Building, San Francisco, is not at all suitable for such purposes, and is a makeshift proposition entirely. This, however, is now in the process of being remedied by the fact that the Harbor Commission is working on plans and specifications for a building of adequate size to handle all the material and stores of the State Purchasing Agent, as well as stores of the Harbor Commission, and these materials should all be carried in the stock of the State Purchasing Agent and distributed under the supervision of the stores department of this office.

BLANKET AUTHORIZATION.

I call your attention to the total of the purchases made on blanket authorization during the biennium, which total is increasing rather than diminishing as it should. There is under present program practically no check on these expenditures. These blanket purchases made by the institutions and departments outside the regular purchasing procedure are supposed to be submitted on a separate claim schedule from the regular expenditures, and those claim schedules are supposed to be submitted to the purchasing agent for his check as to prices and commodities before being paid. As a proof of the lack of proper check, I point you to the total amount of blanket purchase orders issued as being $518,216.09 for the two-year period, as compared to claims entered and checked by this office for those same institutions and departments, amounting to $104,230.22, showing that a very small proportion of the total have been submitted to this office. A tabulation of these amounts, segregated as to departments and institutions, follows:

Totals	$518,216 09	$104,230 22

In addition to the $518,216.09 as shown above, purchased outside the regular routine, there has been purchased by the San Quentin Prison Board, raw jute to the amount of $708,802.16.

I believe that the purchase of raw jute could be more advantageously made by my organization of trained buyers than by the Prison Board, all of them esteemed gentlemen, but not trained along merchandising lines. To be sure the superintendent of the mill should be allowed to exercise his judgment as to quality, which he could do by having the samples submitted for his judgment, but the prices should be secured and the orders be placed by the State Purchasing Agent's office.

I would suggest as a means of further control over blanket purchase orders that the subpurchase orders issued by the institution or department to cover their blanket or emergency purchases be made out in triplicate or in sufficient copies that one copy may be sent to the State Purchasing Agent as they are issued. This copy would be checked by the purchasing agent and attached to the blanket order on file in this department. I think that if this rule was adopted the amounts so purchased would be very materially diminished in the course of the year and would result in considerable economy.

JUNK AND OBSOLETE MATERIAL.

There should be some systematic program worked out for handling and disposing of the large quantities of junk and obsolete material and equipment that must inevitably accumulate at such large organizations as our state institutions, and to my mind the State Purchasing Agent's organization is the proper agency for the clearance of all such materials. At stated intervals, probably semiannually, an inventory of all such materials should be made and sent to this central agency for final disposition. By such a control many times equipment or material no longer used by one department might be transferred to some other department in need of just that sort of equipment and save very considerable sums.

HANDLING PRODUCTION OF THE INSTITUTIONS.

Several of the institutions, in fact most of them, can produce from their farms or orchards certain varieties of products in excess of their own requirements. They can also produce certain items of manufactured products in excess of their own requirements. These productions should be so regulated and the production at the various institutions so coordinated according to soil and climatic conditions and manufacturing ability, that each institution will be producing that which is best fitted to their condition, so that a market for each institution's surplus may be found at some other institution. With the great variety of soil and climate prevailing at the widely separated institutions of the State of California, they could be made to be at least one-half self-sustaining, and by using their inmates for such production not only be a saving in expense to the commonwealth but improve the inmates themselves by giving them something to occupy their minds and improve their physical welfare.

The institutions should file with the State Purchasing Agent's office a list of such products as they have a surplus, so that it could be applied to the need of other institutions requiring that product. Very frequently we learn of a surplus of some commodity which some institution has for disposal, only after we have bought or contracted for the requirements of all other institutions, because there seems to be no comprehensive plan of cooperation.

I believe also that in the exchange of commodities between institutions there should be a bona fide sale and transfer of funds from one institution to another. The price to be fixed as to its relation to the general market for that commodity, quality considered, and not be turned into the general fund as now where its identity and credit to the institution is entirely lost to that institution. The managers at the institutions, if they are the right sort, and the managers at present are the right sort, are anxious to make a good record for their particular institution and they would be encouraged and stimulated in their efforts if the proceeds from their surplus production were applied to the benefit of the institution instead of being submerged into the general fund, not as a contingent fund to be used as they see fit but as a surplus fund to be used only with the approval of the Board of Control. I believe production would be stimulated and much economy would result from such a plan.

COMPARISONS.

Considerable food for thought and material for investigation, I believe, may be gained by those interested in the economical administration of the state's business by a careful study of commodity, Table I, showing the expenditures of each institution for the same lines of commodities. I shall point out a few of those interesting comparisons to you as an example of what may be gained by such study, and I am not making these comparisons as a criticism of any institution nor to invite attention to any particular institution. I think, however, that those in charge of institutions would find some very interesting facts by such comparison, and it might start a line of thought that would be for their benefit.

Take Schedule No. 1, and follow it across the page; consider the relative population of the institutions and the relative expenditures for groceries. These differences are of course partly accounted for from the fact that canned fruit and vegetables are included in this schedule, and some of the institutions produce their own requirements in these goods.

Schedule No. 2.—Produce and dried fruits will very naturally show a wide variation because of the production of the farms.

Schedule No. 3.—Meat and provisions ought to show a variation closely analogous to the difference in population on all the larger institutions because their ability to produce this line of material ought to be nearly equal.

Schedule No. 8.—Soap and laundry supplies should vary closely in comparison to the population except possibly the Sonoma State Home.

Schedules Nos. 12, 13a, 16, 23, and others, should show a variation practically according to the population. A reference to this same table in former reports will show that this biennium is not an exceptional one, but that the positions are relatively the same.

All improvements are the direct result of comparisons. We compare our home with some other home that is much better, with the result that we improve our own. This is the thought that actuates me in calling your attention to a comparison of these figures.

In closing, may I say that it has been my earnest desire to render the best service possible to all the institutions and departments; to secure for them the best possible merchandise, at the most favorable price, and to have it delivered to them in the most expeditious manner.

I have at all times tried to cooperate with the institutions to the fullest extent in the selection of materials; I have endeavored to instill this into the minds of all those connected with this office, and have had their full and hearty cooperation in the rendering of service. I have also had the hearty cooperation of those in charge of departments and institutions, and our relations have been mutually pleasant and profitable, and this office, as long as I am connected with it, will continue to render the best that is in us to the departments, and to conduct the purchasing for the State of California in an economical businesslike way and give every firm and individual interested in the state's business a square deal.

Respectfully submitted.

W. G. McMillin,
State Purchasing Agent.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA,
September 7, 1926.

HON. FRIEND WM. RICHARDSON,
Governor State of California,
Sacramento, California.

DEAR SIR: I have the honor to submit herewith my biennial report containing the transactions of this office for the seventy-sixth and seventy-seventh fiscal years ending June 30, 1925 and 1926.

This report shows in detail, allocation of all the receipts and disbursements during the period aforementioned and the balance on hand in each fund at the close of the corresponding fiscal years, as disclosed in balance sheets and summaries herewith.

The grand total receipts for the biennial period, including $11,000,000 sale of bonds, is $224,231,786.08, segregated as follows:

For the seventy-sixth fiscal year	$109,746,240 05
For the seventy-seventh fiscal year	114,485,546 03
Total	$224,231,786 08

Disbursements during the same period totaled $211,594,807.38, segregated as follows:

For the seventy-sixth fiscal year	$102,144,832 06
For the seventy-seventh fiscal year	109,449,976 32
Total cash payments	$211,594,808 38

The cash receipts for the preceding biennium totaled $186,612,976.56, which, compared with the receipts under report, discloses an increase of $37,618,809.52, or about 15 per cent for the biennium.

The disbursements reported in the preceding biennial report totaled $188,825,139.24, which, compared with the present report, shows an increase of $22,769,669.14, or about 12 per cent.

A synopsis of the stupendous amounts received and paid during the seventy-sixth and seventy-seventh fiscal years, compared with the sixty-sixth and sixty-seventh fiscal years, is as follows:

	66-67th fiscal years	76-77th fiscal years
Receipts for biennium	$67,732,218 32	$224,231,786 08
Disbursements for biennium	71,970,222 61	211,594,808 38

Increase in receipts $156,499,567.76 or about 2.315 per cent over the preceding five bienniums or past ten years.

Increase in disbursements $149,624,585.77 or about 2.075 per cent over the preceding five bienniums or past ten years.

The business of this office has been conducted with the same number of employees as there were during the sixty-sixth and sixty-seventh fiscal years. This would not have been possible, however, had I not employed efficient and economical banking methods to properly handle the increased business during my tenure of office.

CORPORATION FRANCHISE TAX.

This office collects corporation franchise taxes from about twenty-five thousand corporations semiannually, which involves considerable work during January, February, July and August. The franchise taxes collected during the past two years total $89,642,453.75 compared with the taxes collected during the preceding biennium of $65,837,485.41, showing an increase of $23,804,968.34 or about 36 per cent.

This tax is levied by the State Board of Equalization under what is known as the "Constitutional Amendment No. 1" adopted by the people in 1910. While this tax is collected and acknowledged to taxpayers by this office, the books are kept and final receipts are sent out by the State Controller. The corporation license tax is collected by the Secretary of State and by him paid in to the State Treasurer in daily settlements.

The law specifically provides that "Franchise tax shall be paid in cash" but in order to accommodate taxpayers, certified checks and bank drafts or United States Postal Money Orders are accepted in making settlement of franchise tax.

OIL TAX.

This office collected during the past two years the sum of $260,598.44 representing oil tax protection. This is an additional labor placed upon this office by the statutes of the state.

GASOLINE TAX.

The gasoline tax created by the act of the 1923 legislature under section 13 and known as the "Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax" amounted to $30,379,621.85 compared to the receipts during the preceding biennium, which amounted to $5,996,577.30, an increase of $24,383,044.55.

DEPOSITS IN BANKS.

Senate Bill No. 105, approved by the Governor on April 12, 1923, provides for two methods of banking state money, known as "Active and Inactive Deposits," and in accordance therewith I have on deposit as of June 30, 1926:

Inactive deposits	$34,222,100 00
Active deposits	8,407,549 91

INTEREST ON BANK DEPOSITS.

The inactive deposits earn interest ranging from 3¾ per cent to 4 per cent and the active deposits earn interest at the rate of 2 per cent on daily balances.

During the 1922 legislature, I stated to the Senate Finance Committee, that the tentative revenue from bank deposits for the biennium 1922 to 1924, would approximate $1,500,000, which amount was exceeded by $115,476.99. The previous record, however, was eclipsed during the present biennium which shows interest received on bank deposits totaling $2,393,493.43, compared to the interest received during the previous report of $1,659,476.99, reflecting an increase of about 44 per cent or $734,016.44.

On page 35 of this report, you will find a chronological schedule showing the interest received on bank deposits by months and for the biennium.

The active and inactive deposits are fully protected under the following securities, namely; United States bonds or gold notes, state, county, municipal, school and irrigation district bonds.

IRRIGATION DISTRICT BONDS.

The proceeds from sale of irrigation district bonds are used to finance construction for the impounding and conservation of water for domestic and irrigation purposes.

The sections of lands in California relying upon water furnished by such districts for irrigation during abnormal dry periods have, in practically every instance, been furnished sufficient water to insure good crops.

The nominal market fluctuation of the irrigation district bonds places these bonds under the staple type, which reason, in my judgment, is that the irrigation districts are honestly organized and efficiently operated, with the ultimate result of building up the state.

BONDED INDEBTEDNESS OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

Present bonded indebtedness as disclosed in detail under separate schedule herewith amounts to $100,350,500, of bonds actually outstanding as of June 30, 1926.

In the account above indicated, the following items are incorporated, to wit:

Funded debt of 1873, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent, held in trust by the State Treasurer for the benefit of the following funds:

School Funds	$1,526,500 00
University Fund	751,000 00
Total	$2,277,500 00

INDIAN WAR BONDS, ACTS OF 1857 AND 1860.

Indian war bonds amounting to $4,000 as shown under schedule of bonded indebtedness have matured and interest thereon expired.

BOND SINKING FUNDS.

There are a number of sinking funds created for the payment of interest and principal on state bonds. The creation of new funds of this character and the provisions for investments, further adds to the work of this office. The sinking funds are enumerated and briefly explained as follows:

San Francisco Seawall Sinking Fund. Monthly transfers from the revenues of the San Francisco harbor are made to provide for the payment of principal and interest on the San Francisco seawall bonds, act 1903. The balance of this bond issue was redeemed January 2, 1924.

Second San Francisco Seawall Fund. Monthly transfers from the revenues of the San Francisco harbor are made to provide for the payment of interest on the San Francisco harbor improvement bonds, act 1909.

Third San Francisco Seawall Sinking Fund. Monthly transfers from the revenues of the San Francisco harbor are made to provide for the payment of the principal and interest on the San Francisco harbor improvement bonds, act 1913.

India Basin Sinking Fund. Monthly transfers from the revenues of the San Francisco harbor are made to provide for the payment of interest on the India Basin bonds.

State Highway Sinking Fund. This fund is replenished semiannually by transfers from the general fund to pay interest on the first state highway bonds.

Second State Highway Sinking Fund. This fund is replenished semiannually by transfers from the general fund to pay interest on the second highway bonds, act 1915.

Third State Highway Sinking Fund. This fund is replenished semiannually by transfers from the general fund to pay interest on the third highway bonds, constitutional amendment, 1919.

Interest and Sinking Fund of the University of California Building Bonds. This fund is replenished semiannually by transfers from the general fund to pay interest on the University of California building bonds.

Sacramento State Building and Interest Fund. This fund will be replenished by interest on investments and semiannual transfers from the general fund to pay interest on the Sacramento state building bonds.

San Francisco State Building Sinking Fund. This fund is replenished by semiannual transfers from the general fund to pay principal and interest on the San Francisco state building bonds.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA BUILDING BONDS.

At the general election of November, 1914, a bond issue of $1,800,000 was authorized, the proceeds to be devoted to the construction of additional buildings at the state university at Berkeley. These bonds are all sold. The first forty of this issue were paid in January, 1921, and the same number will become due each year thereafter until 1965.

SAN FRANCISCO STATE BUILDING BONDS.

At the general election in November, 1914, a bond issue of $1,000,000 was authorized, the proceeds of which were to be used in the construction and equipment of a state building in San Francisco. This issue has all been sold and the first one hundred forty have matured and have been paid. Twenty of these bonds mature yearly until 1965.

SACRAMENTO STATE BUILDING BONDS.

At the general election in November, 1914, the issuance and sale of $3,000,000 of bonds was authorized, the proceeds of which were used in the construction of additional capitol buildings in Sacramento. These bonds have been sold. All of these bonds are due fifty years after date, and $50,000 must be transferred each year from the general fund to the sinking fund and invested by the State Treasurer in bonds for the purpose of paying the principal.

STATE HIGHWAY BONDS.

Of the issue of $18,000,000 state highway bonds provided for by the Statutes of 1909, the first $400,000 matured July 3, 1917, and were paid. Four hundred of these bonds mature yearly until all have been wholly redeemed. Up to June 30, 1926, $3,600,000 of these bonds had been paid. Under the original act the interest on these bonds was paid by the counties, but in November, 1921, this financial burden was passed on to the state.

SECOND STATE HIGHWAY BONDS.

At the election of November 7, 1916, there was authorized an additional $15,000,000 state highway bonds. All of these bonds have been sold. On July 3, 1923, these bonds began to mature at the rate of 375 annually until all have been wholly redeemed. Under the original act the interest on these bonds was paid by the counties, but in November, 1921, this financial burden was passed on to the state.

THIRD STATE HIGHWAY BONDS.

At a special election held on July 1, 1919, there was authorized the issuance of 40,000 state highway bonds. On July 3, 1926, these bonds will begin to mature at the rate of one thousand annually until all have been redeemed. An act voted upon on November 2, 1921, places all interest charges upon the state and relieves the counties from this payment as provided in the original act. This act provided for the destruction of the remaining bonds and the engraving of new bonds at an interest rate to be determined by the State Highway Finance Board. On March 23 to 28, 1921, were canceled and destroyed 34,878 of these bonds. Up to June 30, 1924, $37,000,000 of the authorized issue were sold, and the balance of $3,000,000 were advertised for sale on June 26, 1924, but later the sale of these bonds was postponed to July 10, 1924, and said bonds were sold on that date.

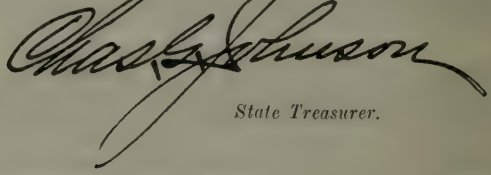
SAN FRANCISCO HARBOR IMPROVEMENT BONDS, ACT 1909.

An issue of $9,000,000 of these bonds was provided for under the Statutes of 1909. This issue has been sold and the interest is being paid out of the revenue of San Francisco harbor.

SAN FRANCISCO HARBOR IMPROVEMENT BONDS, ACT 1913.

At the general election held in November, 1914, a bond issue of $10,000,000 was authorized for the erection of wharves, piers, seawall and other betterments of the San Francisco harbor. Bonds to the amount of $5,000,000 had been sold up to June 30, 1926.

INDIA BASIN BONDS.



These bonds were authorized under the Statutes of 1909 for the amount of $1,000,000 to provide a fund for the acquisition by the Board of Harbor Commissioners of a necessary area for a tidal basin for wharves, piers, etc., in San Francisco. Litigation tied up action for several years. There have been sold of this issue bonds to the amount of $853,000.

VETERANS' WELFARE BONDS.

These bonds were authorized under an act of 1921, in the sum of $10,000,000, of which $4,000,000 were sold during the seventy-fifth fiscal year and the balance sold as follows: During the seventy-sixth fiscal year $4,000,000, during the seventy-seventh fiscal year $2,000,000. Interest on these bonds is to be paid out of the general fund, which interest will be reimbursed to the general fund when funds for the purpose are available.

In submitting this report, I desire to express appreciation for the cooperation of the various departments with the personnel of my office.

Respectfully submitted.

State Treasurer.

FOREWORD.

HISTORY OF VETERAN LEGISLATION.

History records that for centuries warring nations have seriously concerned themselves with honors and rewards and special privileges for their returned soldiers. It has always been a problem of great magnitude that the return of vast armies to peaceful pursuits was essential to the future prosperity and security of the nation. It has never been so great a problem to mobilize the great armies of the world, taking the novitiate from his occupation and carrying him with the aid of patriotism, enthusiasm and pride, as it has been to demobilize and place him back in his old occupation. His mental and physical condition has undergone a great change and in many instances it is necessary to fit the man to a new job. There has always been a restlessness and an epidemic of wanderlust and adventure following the return from wars.

In going over the various reasons that brought about the veteran legislation in California, we look back over the pages of history to Rome, when old Marcus Cato, who was sent by the Romans into Carthage to report the conditions, returned and appeared before the Roman senate and told of the wealth and vigor of Rome's ancient rival. He told of the skill in industry and agriculture of the Carthaginians and warned the Romans to take heed, and as evidence of the wealth, richness and fertility of their soil, the old Roman shook in the faces of the senators a great handful of figs, and they marveled at such fair green Africk figs; and immediately went up the cry to war on Carthage and conquer the lands capable of such production, with the twofold purpose of destroying the rival and rewarding Rome's faithful soldiers with the newly acquired lands. And war resulted, which was the third and last war between Rome and Carthage.

Then we recall Caesar leading his legions into the fertile lands of France and on northward to the British Isles; and of the Norsemen, pushing down from the barren plains of the north to the sunny river valleys of central Europe; also of the Hun, the terrible Attila, who invaded the same territory and inspired his nomadic hordes by promises of the fertile lands of central Europe.

Our own history records that after the Revolutionary War, George Washington was rewarded with a large land grant for his services, and many other grants were made to soldiers who fought in the War of Independence. After the Civil War, where practically the entire population of serviceable age was engaged, times and people had changed. The ancient custom of ravaging and conquering had passed, and a different problem was now confronted; and it is recorded that the soldiers about to be discharged chanted a song something like this: "There's no cause for alarm, Uncle Sam will give us all a farm." The vast plains of the west had not been settled and that territory was capable of bringing wealth and contentment to the discharged soldiers, who became the pioneers of the west. The government made great concessions of land to its Union soldiers.

After the World War the United States, for the fourth time in its history, faced that great problem of rehabilitating its discharged soldiers and placing in peace-time occupations its greatest army, composed of over four million men, one hundred and thirty-five thousand of whom came from California.

So the idea of remedial aid for soldiers was not a new one, born in the minds of the present generation, but one of the oldest of national customs. The only new problem was the application of an old principle. There were no longer new lands to be conquered or new territories to be settled, and there was very little government land to be offered for settlement; so the problem now was to find a means whereby these returned service men might be assisted in the acquisition of homes or farms in which to reestablish themselves within the boundaries or confines of our own country.

Recognizing the fact that the nation had a great problem nationally many states took up their individual problems and endeavored to alleviate the difficulties and hardships being experienced by their returned veterans.

It was with these facts in mind, as a background, that the California legislature in 1921, assisted by representative ex-service men, framed and passed the broadest and most lasting remedial legislation for returned soldiers and sailors of any state in the Union.

ORIGIN OF VETERANS' WELFARE BOARD.

The original Veterans' Welfare Board, appointed pursuant to authority contained in the California Veterans' Welfare Act, chapter 580, Statutes of 1921, was named in 1921 by Governor William D. Stephens and consisted of Frank H. Nichols, Los Angeles, chairman; Robert F. Smith, Bakersfield, secretary; Fred F. Bebergall, San Francisco; Walter B. Kibbey, El Centro—all veterans as defined in section 2 of the creating act—and the Honorable Alden Anderson of Sacramento.

This board proved to be a far-sighted and well-balanced commission, comprising as it did men of great vision and experience. The satisfactory results attained in this pioneer legislation have justified the statement and established the fact that the interests of the state, as well as the welfare of the veteran, were both impartially treated with.

At the expiration of the term of member Fred F. Bebergall, George J. Hatfield, an eminent attorney of San Francisco, was appointed in his stead, on January 7, 1923.

The personnel of the board remained unchanged until October, 1923, when John R. Quinn, manager of the San Francisco district office of the board, was elected National Commander of the American Legion, and immediately announced the appointment of Robert F. Smith as his private and confidential secretary. This necessitated the resignation of John R. Quinn as manager of the San Francisco district and Robert F. Smith as member and secretary of the Veterans' Welfare Board. George M. Stout, the assistant secretary, was thereupon elected secretary by the board and on November 1, 1923, named as a board member by Governor Friend Wm. Richardson.

The next change in the personnel of the board was occasioned by the resignation of Walter B. Kibbey in September, 1924, when he resigned because of ill health and of the pressure of his personal business; and Harold C. Moore, a banker and orchardist of Upland, San Bernardino County, was appointed to succeed him.

After four years' service as chairman, Frank H. Nichols tendered his resignation as chairman to embark on a world tour. Simultaneously with this resignation, John R. Quinn was appointed to board membership to succeed the Honorable Alden Anderson, whose term had expired, and was immediately designated as chairman of the board by the Governor. Friend Wm. Richardson.

CALIFORNIA VETERANS' EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTE ACT.

(Chapter 579, Statutes 1921, as amended by chapter 403, Statutes 1923.)

One of the first problems of the board was the enrollment of student veterans. By reason of the approaching school session it was decided that, due to the necessity of immediate registration, the board begin the approval of eligible applicants. A total of thirteen hundred veterans was enrolled under the Educational Act entitled "The California Veterans' Educational Institute Act, chapter 579, Statutes 1921," in sixty three educational institutions in the Sate of California.

Professions and vocations chosen were as follows:

The Educational Act was administered with a direct appropriation by the legislature of a half million dollars and resulted in 1300 veterans being given the opportunity to complete war-interrupted education. Approximately 90 per cent of the student wards under that act have now completed their training and are practicing lawyers, dentists, doctors, ministers, engineers, and skilled artisans, as well as trainees in various other professions and vocations.

The records of the institutions attended by these student veterans show the scholastic standing of the state's beneficiaries to be much higher than the average of the student body of the same institution. Many of the students have attained the highest honors, as evidenced by awards of membership in honorary societies and honorary fraternities.

There is no question that a great amount of lasting good has been accomplished through the medium of the California Veterans' Educational Institute Act.

VETERANS' WELFARE BOARD ON LAND SETTLEMENT.

(Chapter 580, Statutes of 1921.)

Due to the absence of any apparent need and the lack of demand, the California Veterans' Welfare Board did not attempt to establish a land settlement colony as was contemplated at the time the legislature enacted the Veterans' Land Settlement Act, chapter 580, Statutes of 1921.

In anticipation of a popular demand on the part of veteran farmers, the Veterans' Welfare Board advertised for and received submissions of tracts of land throughout the state that might be suitable and adaptable to the purpose of colonization. One hundred and twenty tracts of land, ranging from 300 to 5000 acres, in all parts of the state, were offered at prices ranging from $50 to $350 an acre.

Examination, inspection and appraisement of these tracts, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Settlement Act, resulted in the elimination of about 95 per cent for various reasons.

But before undertaking so stupendous a project, the board determined to go to the veterans whom the board was created to serve, and immediately invited representatives of organizations and all interested individual veterans to meet with the board, express themselves on the subject, and advise with it as to the proper procedure and policy to follow. Representatives of the Grand Army of the Republic, Spanish-American War Veterans, the Disabled American Veterans, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion met in San Francisco on February 24, 1924. A similar meeting with the veterans in the south was held in Los Angeles on March 16, 1924. At each meeting it was the unanimous opinion of those present that the board should confine its operations to aiding farmers in the purchase of individual farms under the Farm and Home Purchase Act.

Those meetings were well attended and deliberative, and the wisdom of the advice tendered was substantiated by ensuing events. There was never any demand for a veteran colony by any individual veteran or group of veterans who desired to enter an agricultural colony.

From these experiences, and with the advice and cooperation of the veterans and their organizations, the Veterans' Welfare Board formulated its policy in favor of buying for the veteran who harbors a real desire to engage in agriculture, his individual farm; and the results have justified that policy.

At its meeting of April 23, 1925, the Veterans' Welfare Board adopted the following resolution:

> Whereas, there exists no apparent demand or need by veterans for a land settlement colony under the provisions of chapter 580, Statutes of 1921; and
> Whereas, the State Department of the American Legion, in convention assembled at Santa Cruz, California, August 4 to 7, inclusive, 1924, unanimously recommended that the money made available by the Bond Act of 1921 be used for farm and home purchases and not for land settlement; and
> Whereas, the Veterans' Welfare Board does not favor the administration of the Land Settlement Act, preferring to place veterans on individual farm projects under the Farm and Home Purchase Act;
> Now, therefore, be it resolved, that, in view of the lack of demand, it is the sense of the Veterans' Welfare Board that the administration of the Land Settlement Act, chapter 580, Statutes of 1921, should not be attempted.

VETERANS' FARM AND HOME PURCHASE ACT.

(Chapter 519, Statutes of 1921, as amended by chapter 405, Statutes of 1923.)

"The strength of a nation, especially a republican nation, is in the intelligent and well-ordered homes of the people."

Twenty-one thousand two hundred nine California veterans have made application for farms and homes under the provisions of the act of the legislature of 1921 known as the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act. This desire on the part of these ex-service men is an evidence of the struggle to readjust themselves after the hazardous experiences of war and reenter the civic and rural life of the country they served, and for which the lives of many of their comrades was the toll exacted.

As an accomplishment under this remedial legislation, hundreds of California veterans are now securely housed in their own homes, and over four thousand California acres are under cultivation by prosperous veterans who heeded the call to the farms.

By means of this legislation, in which California has taken the lead and by which is promoted the ideals of American citizenship, fostered by homes filled with all the happiness and blessings of American family life, our ex-service people are being moulded into strong and loyal citizens, filled with patriotism and pride, developing this nation of home-loving, home-owning, peaceful people.

The state legislature of 1921 evidently was a very far-sighted body, and one with very friendly tendencies toward the California ex-service man who had, within the preceding twenty-four months' period, been returned from foreign soil or training in American camps, for it formulated and passed the best and most satisfactory relief legislation yet conceived in the minds of state legislators. Such legislation, which operates without cost to the taxpayers and with no injury to the self-respect or dignity of the most sensitive veteran, is a masterpiece of economy and policy.

Under the Farm and Home Purchase Act, the approved veteran selects the home or farm he desires to acquire, and, after appraisements, made in accordance with the requirements of the act (section 6), the board determines its suitability for that particular veteran. If it is acceptable, the board purchases the property outright, paying cash, and sells it to the selecting veteran under the terms of a sales contract drawn in accordance with the provisions of the act (section 7). The veteran makes an initial payment of 5 per cent of the selling price of the property, and is charged (section 6) with all expenses in connection with appraisals, examination of title, incidental expenses and, in addition, an administration charge of 5 per cent, commonly called the loading charge (section 6).

The fixed selling price is amortized usually over a period of twenty years, at 5 per cent interest. On that basis the monthly installments amount to $6.60 per thousand per month, or a maximum of $33.

The theory of the amortized loan is to arrange the monthly payments of the principal and interest, at the fixed rate, which retires the entire amount by maturity. The beneficiary under other loan plans too often neglects the saving and accumulation necessary to meet the principal payment when due, and is compelled to seek renewals and extensions. The amortized loan plan is growing in popularity daily and is receiving endorsement by many of the larger mortgage companies. The Veterans' Welfare Board was among the first to use it.

The advantages under the act to veterans are as follows:

1. Buying power of cash.
2. No taxes while the state has title to the property.
3. Difference between 5 per cent charged by the state and 7 per cent ordinarily charged by private business concerns engaged in financing real estate deals.

Illustration of No. 1.—$5,000 cash purchase.

Purchase for cash saves 15 per cent for veteran. Fifteen per cent on $5,000 deal equals $750. Contracts on real estate, if acceptable by banks, are invariably discounted 20 per cent, and few builders are financially able to permit an outlay of money of any appreciable volume without curtailment of their building activities and operations.

Explanation of No. 2.

In practically every county, the property to which the state holds title under the Farm and Home Purchase Act has been exempted from taxation under an existing law which provides that property, the title of which is vested in the State of California, shall not be subject to taxation.

Advantage of No. 3.

The contracts covering property purchases are figured to bear interest at 5 per cent. A $5,000 purchase, if the contract is dated the first of the month, will call for a monthly installment of $33.13, which includes the 5 per cent interest. This monthly payment will pay out the contract and enable the veteran to take title to the property in twenty years. In those twenty years $8,201.20 will have been paid in, which is segregated as follows: $5,000 principal, $2,951.20 interest, and $250 administrative expense.

Should the interest rate be 7 per cent instead of 5 per cent, the monthly payments would be $38.77, or $5.64 more. In twenty years at that rate the veteran would have paid in $9,303.60, exclusive of the $250 administrative charge, or $1,352.40 more than he would have to pay on a 5 per cent amortization plan.

Figured from another angle, with interest at 7 per cent and monthly payments at $33.13, such as they actually are, it would require approximately thirty-one years to pay out, or eleven years longer than under our plan, and the veteran would have paid $12,258.10, not including the administrative charge.

Classification.

In the classification of applications under the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act the board has adopted rules and regulations to guide its action. All other elements being equal, the veteran who was wounded or disabled as a result of military or naval service is given a preference over able-bodied applicants whose applications are considered seriatim, but in order to carry out a just and fair administration of the act the board has adopted a classification which covers every known condition and point of eligibility.

Where additional information is required to establish the eligibility and preference, if any, of an applicant the case is held in abeyance until such information is furnished.

If the applicant meets all requirements under the act and the rules and regulations his application is tentatively approved. Final approval is not given the veteran until a personal interview is conducted by a member of the board or its representative. If at the time of interview the veteran desires that his case be held in abeyance the application will remain tentatively approved until he is desirous of exercising his privilege under the act. An application will be held in abeyance when the veteran is not prepared to meet the financial or other requirements imposed by the act. Should the veteran meet all the requirements he is granted a Selection and Purchase Certificate authorizing the selection of property he desires to acquire.

Applications of persons are disapproved: Who do not qualify as a "veteran" as defined under section 2 of the act; who would become the holder of real property in excess of the maximum value specified in the act; whose husband or wife, living with the applicant, has as a veteran received the benefits of this act; who have, themselves, received the benefits under the California Veterans' Educational Institute Act; who are unable to conform with the spirit, intent or object of the act; or who are ineligible for any reason under other laws of the state.

The application of a veteran is temporarily disqualified: Who temporarily resides outside of the State of California or requests aid in the acquisition of property in another state; who applies for a loan to develop or improve property owned (which is not provided for under the act); who is still serving under active duty in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps; whose military service consisted only of service rendered in the Student Army Training Corps; who applies for home aid and is without one or more relatives residing with and dependent upon him for support; who applies for a farm and, in the opinion of the board, after investigation is deemed unqualified to successfully operate a farm; or an able-bodied applicant whose service was of less than six months' duration, none of which could be construed as foreign service.

An application is canceled if the applicant fails to cooperate with the board in its completion, or in the investigation relative thereto; if the applicant requests the cancellation in writing; or in the case of the death of the applicant prior to approval.

Any veteran has the privilege of requesting the reconsideration of his application by submitting evidence that has a bearing on his case.

Appraisements.

The determination of the valuation of homes submitted for purchase under the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act has important factors which are negligible to banks or other financial enterprises dealing in home loans. Age and resale value are secondary items when the amount loaned is 60 per cent or less of the appraised value and the period ranges from one to ten years.

The Veterans' Welfare Board is ever confronted with the possibility of having to recover its investment by resale of the property that may be repossessed by reason of the default of the original veteran purchaser. Unless the purchase price is conservatively in proportion to the actual market value a loss may be sustained, especially if an arrearage in monthly installments has accumulated. This is particularly so since the state advances 95 per cent of the cost price. Depreciation is ordinarily equal to or greater than appreciation. As the greatest hazard of loss is apparently within five years after the purchase the age of the dwelling acquired is of major importance. New homes, modern today, will be slightly obsolete several years hence, while houses that were out of date five or ten years ago are constantly becoming more difficult to resell by reason of their antiquity.

A third factor equally as important is the desirability and adaptability of the property to serve the purpose of this legislation; that of providing the applicant and his family with a suitable home for future years. Location is of considerable import to the purchaser. Accessibility to transportation, schools, markets, churches, parks and opportunity for employment have a direct bearing upon the suitability of the property.

The proportion of lot value to the dwelling cost is an essential point. A lower priced lot destined to become a desirable residential district is ideal as it permits the expenditure of more money on the dwelling.

offering the possibility of better quality and greater size without exceeding the maximum amount allowable under the law.

The board has placed suitability on a par with investment possibilities in order to comply with the original intent and spirit of the act.

The board desires to express its appreciation of the assistance given it by the state inheritance tax appraisers and the various banks from whom it has, from time to time, received valuation appraisals on the farms and homes purchased under this act. These services, performed purely out of a sincere regard for the veterans of California, and involving sacrifices of time, have been cheerfully rendered without remuneration.

Fire Insurance.

Fire insurance policies numbering over 2800 in over 200 companies operating and doing business under the insurance laws of the State of California have been issued and are now in force for the protection of the state to cover losses, if any, against the properties acquired under the Farm and Home Purchase Act. Each of these policies carries a standard contract of sale clause naming the Veterans' Welfare Board of the State of California as vendor, and the veteran as vendee.

In excess of $7,000,000 fire insurance is required to insure the property covered by these sales contracts. The 2800 policies average approximately $2,500 each.

The board requires the veteran to pay for and furnish insurance in an amount determined by the board and in accordance with the terms of the home or farm purchase contract. The veteran is privileged to purchase the fire insurance wherever and from whomever he pleases, so long as the insurance is written by a reputable company, licensed to operate under the laws of the State of California.

Fire Losses.

Up to and including June 30, 1926, there have been twelve losses sustained as a result of damage by fires, totaling $3,033.27. Without exception satisfactory adjustments and payments of damages have been made by the fire insurance companies. In each case, the check covering the amount of the loss was received and placed in our cash trust fund until such time as the necessary repairs were made.

Upon completion and acceptance of the reconditioning work the amount of the damage claim is paid to the veteran that he might discharge all repair bills.

Should a veteran not desire to replace a barn or a garage or any other outbuilding destroyed by fire, the proceeds will be credited to his account.

FINANCIAL REPORT.

Submitted herewith is a report on the financial condition and operations of the Veterans' Welfare Board, under the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act as of and to June 30, 1926.

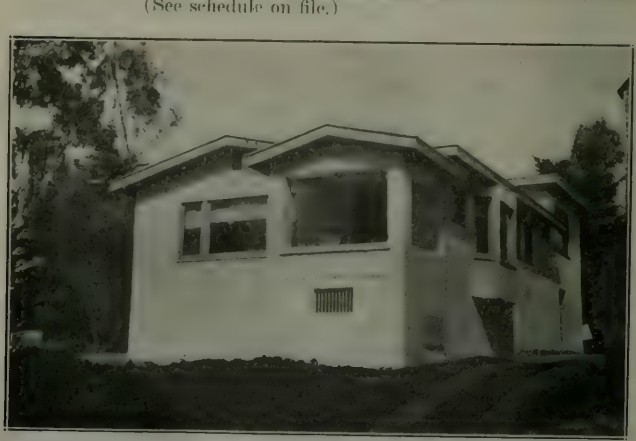
This report consists of a discussion of the most significant phases of the following statements:

1. Balance Sheet as of June 30, 1926.

A modern five-room brick bungalow—Sacramento.

2. Statement of Income to June 30, 1926.
3. Statement of Expenditures to June 30, 1926.

And of schedules in analysis of certain items of the balance sheet.



To distinguish the financial activities under the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act from those under the Veterans' Welfare Act and under the California Veterans' Educational Institute Act, the information conveyed by this report is designated as pertaining to the Division of Farm and Home Purchases of the Veterans' Welfare Board.

The funds, contractual rights, and other properties constituting the assets of which the Division of Farm and Home Purchases is possessed as of June 30, 1926, are sufficient to offset all current and unmatured obligations and to absorb adequate reserves, including a "Reserve for Future Expenditures" of $693,645.29. This reserve corresponds very nearly to what in a commercial undertaking would be termed "Surplus," but in the case of the Division of Farm and Home Purchases represents merely an excess of income accrued over expenditures under the Farm and Home Purchase Act.

The available cash as shown in the balance sheet is ample to meet all current liabilities. None of the unmatured liabilities fall due in advance of corresponding contractual rights, which are likewise in excess of obligations.

Particular attention is invited to the following schedules analyzing certain items appearing on the balance sheet:

Schedule 1—Warrants receivable, as of June 30, 1926.
Schedule 2—Revolving funds undistributed, as of June 30, 1926.
Schedule 3—Revolving funds in escrow, as of June 30, 1926.
Schedule 4—Reimbursements receivable, as of June 30, 1926.
Schedule 5—Veterans' home purchase contracts, as of June 30, 1926.
(See schedule on file.)

An imposing five-room dwelling possessing a suburban setting yet within a few minutes' drive to the business section—Oakland.

A modern home of a veteran at the foot of the Berkeley hills—Alameda County.

Schedule 6—Veterans' farm purchase contracts, as of June 30, 1926. (See schedule on file.)

Schedule 7—Reconciliation of cost of homes purchased with cost of homes under contract of sale, as of June 30, 1926.

Schedule 9—Deposits, as of June 30, 1926.

In addition to providing an analysis of the corresponding balance sheet items, certain of these schedules are designed to bring out such information as will materially aid in the proper interpretation of the items which they support.

Schedule 1—Warrants Receivable.

This schedule lists those claims filed with the State Board of Control for approval, for which controller's warrants have not yet been received.

Schedule 2—Revolving Funds Undistributed.

This schedule lists claims filed to reimburse a revolving fund for escrow deposits made therefrom and since released from escrow through the purchase of homes.

Schedule 3—Revolving Funds in Escrow.

This schedule lists those deposits in escrow, made from revolving funds, which have not yet been released from escrow. An escrow deposit is considered released as of the date shown on the policy of title insurance covering the property purchased thereby, or as of the date on which the deposit is returned to the Veterans' Welfare Board.

Schedule 4—Reimbursements Receivable.

This schedule lists deposits in escrow which have been released through the purchase of homes, but for which reimbursement claims have not yet been filed with the State Board of Control.

Schedule 5—Veterans' Home Purchase Contracts.

(See schedule on file.)

Schedule 6—Veterans' Farm Purchase Contracts.

(See schedule on file.)

Schedule 7—Reconciliation of "Cost of Homes Purchased" With "Cost of Homes Under Contract of Sale."

The need for this reconciliation arises from the fact that some contracts of sale have been consummated prior to the acquisition of title in the properties sold. Normally, the cost of homes under contract of sale should be equal to, or less than, the cost of homes purchased.

Schedule 9—Deposits.

This schedule lists those creditors of the Division of Farm and Home Purchases for whose account the division holds deposits in trust as shown by item 7 of the balance sheet.

Explanation of Financial Statements.

The several items composing the balance sheet, as well as the statements of Income and Expenditures, are fully explained in an "Explanation of Financial Statements" on page 32.

The said explanation will be uniformly applicable to the financial reports of this division which are submitted at monthly intervals.

Sacramento, California, June 30, 1926.

AGRICULTURE ENCOURAGED BY BOARD.

"There seem to be but three ways for a nation to acquire wealth: the first is by war, as the Romans did, in plundering their conquered neighbors—this is robbery; the second by commerce, which is generally cheating; the third by agriculture, the only honest way, wherein man receives a real increase of the seed thrown into the ground, in a kind of continual miracle, wrought by the hand of God in his favor, as a reward for his innocent life and his virtuous industry."—Benjamin Franklin.

Four thousand acres of California land is under cultivation by veterans who were placed on farms through the operation of the Farm and Home Purchase Act. These four thousand acres are divided up in 178 farms, averaging twenty-two and one-half acres each, and costing nearly one million dollars, or two hundred fifty dollars per acre, with improvements.

These farms are located in thirty-four counties of the state, from Modoc County on the north to Imperial and San Diego counties on the south. Practically every form of agriculture adaptable to the various farming districts and sections of the state is engaged in, from ranching to horticulture and pomiculture.

Only veterans fitted by either training or experience are permitted to undertake farming, for it has been proven in many instances that to permit a novitiate to undertake farming is to court failure for the veteran and a financial loss for the state. The veterans who have so far failed in their farming projects are very few, and in each case their failure may be attributed principally to disabilities traceable to the war.

Thirty-four hundred veterans have filed applications for farm purchases, twenty per cent of whom have a war-connected disability rating with the United States Veterans' Bureau.

"Command large fields, but cultivate small ones."—Virgil. Veteran acreage in San Joaquin County.

VETERANS PROMPT IN PAYMENTS.

There has been expended by the Veterans' Welfare Board $984,117.74 for 178 farms and $9,564,958 for 2073 homes, a total of $10,549,075.74.

Collections are made monthly on home contracts, and seasonally on farms, resulting in an average monthly income of approximately $70,000. At the date of this report, less than 3/10 of 1 per cent of the amounts outstanding are delinquent. Eighty per cent of the total number of delinquent veterans are less than sixty days in arrears with their monthly installment. The Veterans' Welfare Board has been highly complimented by financing companies and bankers on this remarkable showing.

Of the 2251 veterans holding farm and home purchase contracts, only 28 forfeitures for delinquency have been necessary. Of the forfeited properties all but six have been resold up to the date of this report, and a profit on the resale of $305.91 has been made by the board.

The businesslike administration of the board, and the disposition of the great majority of the veteran beneficiaries to comply diligently with the terms of their contracts, has resulted in the building up of a reserve for future expenses and expenditures in connection with administration, inspections, and collections, of over six hundred thousand dollars. The only expense to the state was the direct appropriation of $50,000 by the forty-fourth session of the legislature, in 1921, which was used primarily for organization purposes, as was intended.

It is now, however, a certainty that this legislation in the future will be self-sustaining and this board self-supporting; and that the continuance of this work will not cost the people of California one penny.

The reserve for future expenses in connection with administration will continue to grow, and it is estimated that it will be sufficient to meet any unforeseen contingencies. That reserve represents the difference between the 5 per cent interest rate charged the veteran and the lower rate of 4½ per cent borne by the veteran welfare bonds issued, plus the 5 per cent loading charge or administrative expense, plus premiums on bond sales, plus profit from resales, plus interest on deposits of unexpended moneys.

The "loading charge" of 5 per cent is figured on the basis of the accepted purchase price, and is calculated to cover all expenses incurred and estimated to be incurred by the board, inclusive of interest, administration, appraisals, examination of title, incidental expenses, etc., (section 6 of the Farm and Home Purchase Act) at the time the contract is executed, and, furthermore, to meet the cost of administration during the life of the contract. The "loading charge" percentage was agreed upon by the board after one year's operation and experience and on the advice of an actuary who has been given a full set of available facts and figures from which to make his calculations and conclusions.

The report of the auditor of the Department of Public Accounting of the State Board of Control, dated August 5, 1925, at Sacramento, contains this commendation, reflecting the conditions appendent to the administration of the Veterans' Welfare Board:

The accounting and statistical records are maintained in excellent form. The administration of the various acts concerning the veterans is tended to combine good business practice with a sympathetic consideration of the human element involved in all transactions. Delinquencies constitute less than 2/10 of one per cent of amounts outstanding. If the people vote the new twenty million dollar bond issue and conditions do not change materially for the worse, the possibilities are that the Veterans' Welfare Board will be eventually placed in a position where it could entirely eliminate the loading charge feature from its calculations by credit application on veterans' contracts and possibly have a substantial balance at the conclusion of activities for additional distribution.

VETERANS' WELFARE BOND ACT OF 1921.

(Chapter 578, Statutes of 1921.)

Chapter 578, Statutes of 1921, is an act authorizing the creation of a debt or debts, liability or liabilities, through the issuance and sale of $10,000,000 of state bonds, for the purpose of carrying on the operations of the Veterans' Welfare Board in accordance with the respective provisions of the California Veterans' Welfare Act and the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act, both enacted at the forty-fourth session of the legislature; to provide ways and means, exclusive of loans, for the payment and discharge of interest and principal of such debts and liabilities created; to create a Veterans' Welfare Finance Committee and define its powers; and to appropriate money to cover the expense of preparing and selling the bonds authorized.

This act was approved by the people at the general election in November, 1922.

At the forty-sixth session of the legislature a practically identical act, designated as chapter 430, Statutes of 1925, was enacted for the purpose of providing an additional $20,000,000 for the continuance of the operations of the Veterans' Welfare Board. This act will be submitted to the people for ratification at the general election in November, 1926.

Abstract of All Proceedings of the Veterans' Welfare Finance Committee.

The Veterans' Welfare Finance Committee is composed of Friend Wm. Richardson, Governor; Ray L. Riley, State Controller; Charles G. Johnson, State Treasurer; George G. Radcliff, chairman of the State Board of Control; and Frank H. Nichols, chairman of the Veterans' Welfare Board.

George M. Stout, secretary of the Veterans' Welfare Board, was appointed secretary pro tempore of the Veterans' Welfare Finance Committee.

Meeting No. 1 of the Veterans' Welfare Finance Committee was held November 1, 1923, for the purpose of discussing the preliminary procedure to the authorization of bond creation and sale.

Meeting No. 2 of the Veterans' Welfare Finance Committee was held December 5, 1923, when the committee discussed a proposed resolution fixing the amount of the first bond issue, the purpose of the issue, and the interest rate to be borne by said bonds. After a discussion with the Veterans' Welfare Board as to its plans the one million dollars provided for veteran land settlement purposes was eliminated; and the interest rate reduced from 4¾ to 4½ per cent because of the apparent stability of the bond market.

Meeting No. 3 of the Veterans' Welfare Finance Committee was held December 20, 1923, at which time the committee adopted a resolution authorizing the creation and sale of four million dollars veterans' welfare bonds for the administration of the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act, chapter 519, Statutes of 1921, as amended by chapter 405, Statutes of 1923, on the basis of the plans and projects of the Veterans' Welfare Board.

Meeting No. 4 of the Veterans' Welfare Finance Committee, held February 11, 1924, fixed the date of sale of the four million dollar issue, and authorized and directed the State Treasurer to advertise said sale in accordance with section 8 of the Bond Act.

Meeting No. 5 was held on September 6, 1924, when the Veterans' Welfare Finance Committee met and considered a draft of a resolution authorizing the creation and sale of bonds in the amount of two million dollars to continue the administration of the Farm and Home Purchase Act. The resolution was adopted and the date of the sale of said bonds fixed and the State Treasurer directed to advertise said sale in accordance with section 8 of the Bond Act.

Meeting No. 6 was held on February 24, 1925, when the Veterans' Welfare Finance Committee met and considered a resolution authorizing the creation and sale of bonds in the amount of two million dollars to continue the administration of the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act. The resolution was adopted, fixing the date of sale and directing the State Treasurer to advertise the same in accordance with section 8 of the Bond Act.

Meeting No. 7 was held on September 2, 1925, when the Veterans' Welfare Finance Committee met and considered a resolution authorizing the creation and sale of bonds in the amount of two million dollars to continue the administration of the Farm and Home Purchase Act. The resolution was adopted, fixing the date of sale and directing the State Treasurer to advertise the same in accordance with section 8 of the Bond Act. (The passing of this resolution completed the issuance of ten million dollars in bonds authorized.)

The Veterans' Welfare Board repaid into the general fund of the state treasury the loan of $1,950,000 granted under chapter 519, Statutes of 1921. The money to repay this loan was acquired from the receipts of the first bond issue authorized by the Veterans' Welfare Finance Committee.

The funds, contractual rights and other properties constituting the assets of which the farm and home purchases is possessed as of June 30, 1926, are sufficient to offset all current and unmatured obligations, and to absorb adequate reserves including a reserve for future expenditures of $693,645.29. This reserve represents an excess of income accrued over expenditures incurred, which is restricted in its application to the lawful expenditures of the Farm and Home Purchase Act. Both the maturity of bonds and the interest indebtedness thereon have to date been promptly paid when due.

Financial statement of Veterans' Welfare Finance Committee and the Veterans' Welfare Board follows:

Extract from Summary of Proceedings of the Eighth Annual Convention of the American Legion, Department of California.

RESOLUTION No. 10.

Endorsement of Amendment One, November Election.

WHEREAS, The Veterans' Welfare Board of California has now practically exhausted the funds authorized by the Veterans' Welfare Bond Act of 1921 to be loaned by it to purchase farms and homes for veterans of this state, and in so doing has followed a conservative, but sympathetic policy with respect to all purchases made; and

WHEREAS, The Veterans' Welfare Board has thus successfully brought to completion pioneer work in the administration of this distinctly different and beneficial type of veteran relief legislation, and in such administration has consulted with veterans and veteran organizations everywhere throughout the state to the end that a definite and uniform policy of administration has been adopted and pursued in the acceptance of applications, the purchase of farms and homes, and the investment of funds entrusted to said board; and

WHEREAS, The State of California and its veterans have profited immeasurably by this investment in farm and home life, as well as by the careful, yet considerate administration of the provisions of law by the Veterans' Welfare Board; and

WHEREAS, There is a great need for further funds to be provided for in the same manner for the purpose of purchasing farms and homes for thousands of veterans of this state whose applications have been submitted and approved but for which there are not now funds on hand with which to make such purchases and loans, and there is before the electors of this state by referendum a law for approval known and designated as Proposition Number One, "Veterans' Welfare Bond Act of 1925," which will provide necessary and additional funds in the sum of twenty million dollars to further accomplish the same purpose already pursued by the Veterans' Welfare Board with the first ten million dollars. Therefore be it

Resolved, By the American Legion in state convention duly assembled at Susanville, California, that this convention does endorse for approval at the next general election, November 2, 1926, that measure appearing upon the ballot as Proposition Number One, known as the "Veterans' Welfare Bond Act of 1925," and pledges itself to the earnest and vigorous support of that measure in such election; be it further

Resolved, That this convention does endorse the policy of administration pursued by the Veterans' Welfare Board of this state in the administration of the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act (Chap. 519, Statutes 1921), as originally passed, and commend said board for its able, sympathetic and reasonable treatment relative to the provisions of said law.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

To the Honorable FRIEND WM. RICHARDSON,
Governor of California,
Sacramento, California.

SIR: As president of the Board of Directors of the Veterans' Home of California I have the honor to address to you this, my twenty-fourth, annual report as president of the board, which report will cover the activities of the Home for the seventy-sixth fiscal year.

I submit herewith reports of the commandant, secretary-treasurer, chief surgeon, quartermaster-commissary, chief engineer and adjutant.

The personnel of the directors has remained unchanged during the year and the one vacancy that existed has now been filled by the appointment of Frank F. Atkinson, an attorney of Sacramento. This appointment is very gratifying as Mr. Atkinson, with his legal experience, will be a valuable addition to the board.

The year has been a prosperous one with the Home as the funds allowed by the government and state have been ample to meet our needs. There has been a constant endeavor on the part of the directors and officers to improve conditions and to make the Home as comfortable and as harmonious for the members as possible.

Many improvements have been made throughout the year at the Home in the way of painting buildings, reflooring portions of the hospital and the main dining room. The sleeping quarters for the men are kept up as well as possible but are not what we should like to have them as some of the buildings are very old.

Improvements in the library have been continued and special credit is due to Mr. Pollard, the librarian, for his untiring efforts to make the library pleasant and homelike and to add to the comfort of the members who go there for reading and recreation. He has installed a radio which furnishes entertainment for the members after the reading hours are over.

A large new concrete building is in progress which will furnish sleeping quarters for the help in the quartermaster and commissary departments and will also afford space for a large vegetable room on the lower floor. This is a much needed improvement and will increase the efficiency of the Home.

We furnish entertainment during the year as occasion arises and we have three moving picture shows each week. These latter shows seem to be enjoyed by the veterans. Nonpensioners are admitted free and pensioners pay a small admission fee.

As president of the Board of Directors I desire to extend the thanks of the president and board to the Governor, the state legislature, the State Board of Control, the Civil Service Commission, Division of Purchases and Custody and all other state departments with which we have transacted business during the year, for their courtesy and consideration at all times in aiding us to care for the veterans who have offered to their country all they had to give at her times of need.

SAMUEL W. BACKUS,
President Board of Directors.

REPORT OF THE COMMANDANT.

From: Russell C. Martin, Commandant, Veterans' Home of California.

To: President and Members of the Board of Directors.

Subject: Report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1925.

As commandant of the Veterans' Home of California I have the honor to submit the reports of the secretary-treasurer, chief surgeon, quartermaster-commissary, chief engineer and adjutant for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1925. These officers, in their reports, cover the work of the different departments of the Home for the year.

I took command of the Home in March, 1921, and from that time to the present there has been a steady improvement in the departments including the buildings, machinery, grounds and feeding of members.

The change of our water service from wooden pipe to iron pipe has made the delivery of water complete but the location should be surveyed to ascertain where the seepage is which causes the loss of water from a short distance above the dam to the dam, thus preventing the full stream to come to the dam. Last year we had to build a flume from the stream over the dam to the pipe below to get sufficient supply for the Home. The same trouble is occurring this year. There is plenty of water if it can be brought to the pipe.

Looking to fire protection we procured a fire truck and hose last year and this year added a fire-alarm system as an additional protection. Several hundred cans of fire dust have been bought to be placed in the buildings. This adds greatly to the safety of the Home. There is a fire drill every week to keep all apparatus in first class condition.

The feeding of our members has been improved both in the main dining room and hospital. It requires constant study and effort to arrange a menu which does not become monotonous, thus leading to complaints. Our appropriations are arranged on a very close margin to feed our members a sufficient amount of food for health. There have never been sufficient employees or supplies to take care of the members according to age and disability as should be done. Veterans should be segregated and placed as their condition requires. This would necessitate more help in the kitchen and a small additional expense in food but the general health conditions would improve.

The membership has increased over 1924. We do not accept World War veterans except in emergency cases. All veterans of the World War who need care are for hospitalization. Our hospital is only sufficient to accommodate the older veterans and if the Home accepted World War veterans it would crowd out others who have been here many years. The Home is in complete harmony with the U. S. Veterans' Bureau.

Last year a recommendation was made to have a plot plan of our grounds and in the future build or improve from this outline. This was done and the Home now has this plan to work from. During the year many improvements have been made to the buildings and grounds. The archway leading to the highway has been removed and pillars with bronze name plates and lights have been installed. The roadway was widened at the entrance to twenty-four feet. The former arch was built when horse-drawn vehicles were used and was too narrow for autos.

A concrete sidewalk has been laid from the highway to the Home. The hedge has been removed and an iron wire fence built from the south line of the Home along the front and up the north side line to the Home. This improves the appearance of the premises very much. A new horse barn has been built to replace the one burned some years ago. New chicken house and farrowing houses have been built. The clerk's cottage has had a room added and has been completely remodeled. The guest house has had additional bath rooms, new kitchen range and other improvements installed. A new concrete building is under construction. The first floor is to be used for vegetable storage, etc., and the second floor is to be used for male help quarters. These latter have been badly needed for some time. Two garages have been built to accommodate thirty automobiles belonging to the Home and employees. A new engine and compressor have been installed for the ice plant. A new floor has been laid in the main dining room and painting has been done in the various buildings as needed.

Our library is one of the finest in the state and is well patronized.

Many entertainments have been given during the year in addition to the three picture shows each week. A small charge is made for members receiving pensions and nonpensioners are admitted free to the moving pictures. All national and state holidays have been observed. There are special services on Memorial Day. The veterans of all wars participate in doing honor to their comrades who have gone before. The principal service is conducted on the lawn at the flag staff as it is more easily reached than any other point on the grounds by the disabled members.

The Home band has attended all funeral services and has given daily concerts at the main and Hospital band stands.

There has been a fine cooperation among the officers in the different departments which has resulted in increased efficiency and pleasant conditions.

The accounting department conducted by the secretary-treasurer has been a model of efficiency. The department has been highly complimented by the auditor and state officials. The secretary-treasurer is guardian for many of our incompetent members who have no friends that can be found or if found do not wish the care of the guardianship. These duties increase the responsibility of the office.

The chief surgeon has conducted the hospital in an efficient manner and has given those under his care the service of careful supervision. Hospitals usually are dreaded by those who are unfortunate enough to need them. For this reason many of our members do not get the help which could be given them. This condition has been overcome to a considerable degree by our chief surgeon in his interest in these members.

The adjutant's office has kept the records of the Home in fine shape and has continually improved the office. His dealing with the members has created harmony and good feeling. He is always ready to listen to complaints and careful to correct them. His supervision of the funerals has received commendation from all visitors and members.

The office of the quartermaster-commissary has been conducted in a wonderfully efficient manner. His position covers such a variety of conditions and duties that it requires tact as well as hard work. Our quartermaster-commissary has proved himself equal to every call. The Home appreciates this service.

The duties of the chief engineer are manifold. New work and improvements have been accomplished the past year. Much has been asked of him and it has taken all his time and effort to personally supervise the various projects. He has made a creditable record.

The "bootlegger" presents the same difficulty as of former years. He is always present and if our members leave the grounds he is ready to meet them. The county authorities have raided different places but the effect is only temporary. It is the one great worry of the officers of the Home.

My association with the board of directors, State Board of Control, Engineering Department, Purchasing Department, as well as all state officials, has been very pleasant. To the officers of the Home personally I wish to extend thanks for their loyalty and assistance. Cooperation is the keynote of success. Their kindness to me will always be remembered. Let us hope the future will find us equally united in the service for the veterans of all wars.

Respectfully submitted.

RUSSELL C. MARTIN,
Colonel-Commandant.

QUARTERMASTER-COMMISSARY REPORT.

GENERAL SAMUEL W. BACKUS,
President, Board of Directors.

(Through COL. R. C. MARTIN, Commandant.)

SIR: I have the honor to submit herewith a report of the quartermaster-commissary for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1925.

The quartermaster's department embraces the commissary, main kitchen, bakery, farm, chicken and hog ranches, dairy, transportation, laundry, clothing, butcher shop, vegetable garden, orchard, mattress shop, florist, and post store.

SUPPLIES.

The contractors furnishing supplies to this institution have all conformed closely to the state specifications with the exception of a very few who attempted to send inferior goods, which goods were at once refused and returned to them at their expense.

Our supplies are purchased by the State Purchasing Department at Sacramento, California, and, after being received at the institution, samples are forwarded to the State Board of Health at Berkeley for analysis, and if not found up to the standard are rejected. It is very gratifying to state that few rejections had to be made.

EMPLOYEES.

The departments employ regularly 52 male and 21 female help (46 civilians and 27 members of the Home), total 73. During the season of production a few more men are employed on the farm. The proportion of members to civilian help varies slightly but the general average is about the same. Every effort is made to obtain and keep good employees. Where the service rendered is exceptionally good, and beyond what the employee is supposed to render, increase of pay is recommended after six months of employment. The preference of veterans in employment is strictly adhered to.

A new set of quarters for married employees (6) is recommended. Present set of quarters (6) now occupied by married employees are ideal in every respect and much appreciated. The new quarters so recommended are intended for employees without quarters.

Employees of the quartermaster's department (farm and transportation) are too often called upon to perform duties other than the regular assignment. While the cooperation is given most heartily, it nevertheless works a detriment to the desired and expected efficiency of the department. Special inducements should be made to hold desirable employees.

Three new rooms have been added to quarters of waitresses. The rooms are modern and comfortable in every respect and are appreciated.

WASTE.

All garbage from the kitchen, dining rooms, and restaurant is sent to the hog ranch, materially reducing the cost of feeding.

Old sacks, scrap iron, rubber or junk of any nature are sold to the junk dealers for the best prices obtainable. Authority: Board of Survey.

KITCHEN.

The food is well cooked and of a very good variety. Our menu shows a very nicely balanced ration for both the older men and the working men, the tables are supplied daily with fresh vegetables and fresh fruit in season. It has always been the aim of the kitchen to serve good, wholesome, and palatable food; in this we have been very successful. The cost of the ration is reported monthly and speaks for itself.

The work in the kitchen has been verly closely supervised to prevent waste.

FRUITS.

The orchard has furnished an abundance of fresh fruit during the season; also, a splendid yield of prunes, enough being stored to furnish the institution with all prunes needed until the next crop is available, and a large surplus will be sold through the State Purchasing Agent to other state institutions. Present growing crop will yield beyond expectation in view of the growing season being highly tempered with rain.

FARM.

The feed produced during the year has been especially good, both as to weight and quality.

The soil has been enriched with manure and lime, this being well worked into the ground, and by intensive cultivation the yield has been above the average. This is particularly true of the corn, which enables us to carry a full silo.

DAIRY.

The herd is in splendid condition. The milk produced during the past year has been of good quality, admitting a good test at all times. Tests are made daily, and when not up to standard, measures are taken to rectify. Milk is served with butter-fat and cream intact. This insures a perfect table milk.

CHICKEN RANCH.

The Home consumes during the year 29,730 dozen eggs. This great quantity can be more readily understood in view of the fact that eggs are served three times a week to main mess, and daily to the hospital, also other requisitions as called for. Therefore, to meet this demand, it was necessary to increase the laying stock, and must be continued to prevent open market purchase during the short laying season. Up to present writing a very creditable showing has been accomplished.

A new poultry house has been constructed to quarter the increased number of birds. The rabbitry as established has proven itself a success.

HOG RANCH.

The swine are all of the Tamworth breed (ham and bacon type). They are very prolific and profitable. A new boar (imported blood) is now under consideration for purchase. From a breeder's point of view, it is not an idle boast to say: The Veterans' Home maintains one of the best swine plants in this state.

VEGETABLE GARDEN.

The Home has been supplied by an abundance of first class vegetables of all varieties.

CLOTHING.

Uniforms, U. S. pattern (dark blue ¾ standard cloth in coat, sky blue kersey in trousers) were purchased in New York City at a very attractive price, with the result that approximately $7,500 was saved to the state. A uniform that will conform to standard pattern and washable, for the exclusive use of patients in the hospital, is under advisement, and will be presented for consideration in the near future.

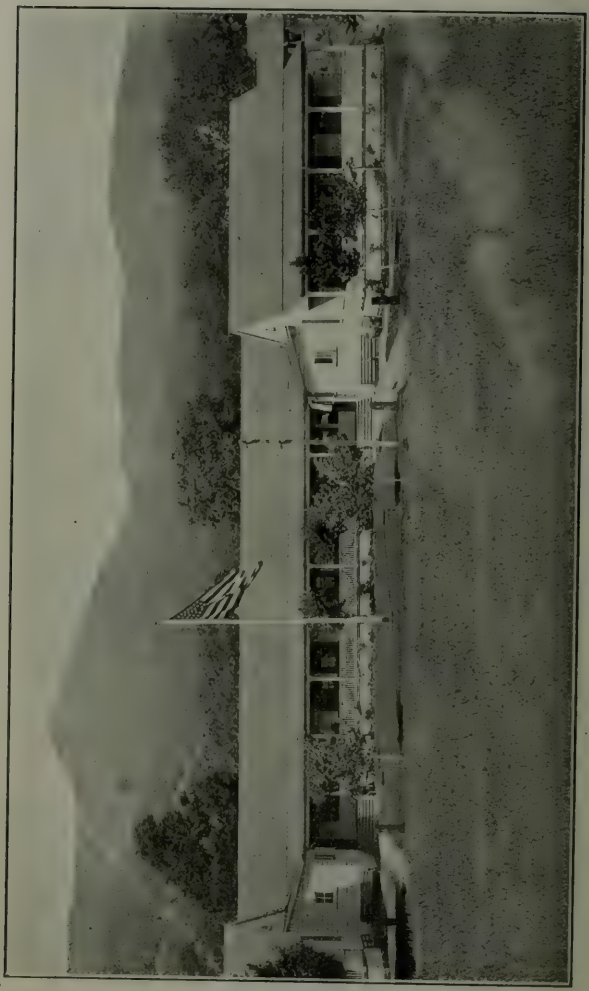
Improvement has been made in the matter of dress (uniform) for the dead. A very fine burial robe, made of blue kersey, uniform pattern, with white collar, is now being furnished, and has brought forth many commendable remarks by observers.

LAUNDRY.

A dry cleaning plant should be installed in connection with laundry, to be used exclusively for uniforms of the men; while the present method of wet scrubbing and dry pressing of uniforms is employed, it could be greatly improved upon through the use of dry cleaning and pressing, conserving the life of the cloth materially. Request for special appropriation to meet the cost of installing a dry cleaning plant is recommended. This would entail no extra expense for labor.

TRANSPORTATION.

The rolling stock is in good condition, except the Federal truck, which is in fair condition, and has been replaced by a three-ton truck with dump body (International). Also, the passenger car (Dodge touring) has been replaced by a seven-passenger car (Buick Master 6). The light delivery truck (Reo) has outlived its usefulness, and will have to be replaced. The life of the machine can not be prolonged through constant expensive repairs and is not warranted. It is therefore recommended to be replaced. It must be borne in mind that the tonnage handled by these trucks is excessive, particularly so during our present program of construction work; therefore, the work done is commendable.



POST STORE.

The post store, under the supervision of the quartermaster, is a profitable adjunct to the Home, besides being a great convenience to members, officers and employees. A newspaper stand has been added to the Post Store, which has proven to be a very profitable proposition. A careful inventory of stock is taken every month, a complete report of expenditures and receipts made and the profit ascertained. For the twelve months ended June 30, 1925, the cash profit was $3,312.48.

For kindly consideration and cooperation the thanks of this department are due the Board of Directors, the commandant and other officers, and to a corps of earnest, intelligent employees.

Respectfully submitted.

J. P. EDMUNDS,
Captain-Quartermaster.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

VETERANS' HOME OF CALIFORNIA,
October 1, 1926.

To the Honorable FRIEND WM. RICHARDSON,
Governor of California,
Sacramento, California.

DEAR SIR: I have the honor of transmitting herewith the annual report of the Board of Directors of the Veterans' Home of California for the seventy-seventh fiscal year ending June 30, 1926, together with the reports of the commandant, secretary-treasurer, chief surgeon, quartermaster-commissary, chief engineer and adjutant.

At the beginning of the year General Samuel W. Backus, president of the Board of Directors, asked to be relieved of the duties of that office. General Backus had been the honored president of the board for twenty-four successive years; he gave unsparingly of his time, and the success of the Home is due in a very large measure to his unselfish efforts.

At the beginning of the year the board reorganized by the election of myself as president of the board, Frank F. Atkinson, of Sacramento as vice president and Miss C. de Colmesnil as secretary-treasurer (for the tenth consecutive time).

On February 3, 1926, Mr. Hugh M. Burke, who had been a director of the Home for twenty-seven years, passed away. Mr. Burke had been untiring in his efforts to assist his comrades, and to make this a real home for them. He is gone, and his passing was a distinct loss to the Home, but the results of his conscientious work will long be felt.

On March 19, 1926, Colonel Nelson M. Holderman was elected commandant of the Home. Colonel Holderman is eminently fitted both by training and temperament to fill this most important position. He has won the love and respect of the membership of the Home.

On June 15, 1926, Dr. J. J. France resigned as chief surgeon, having served in that capacity since July, 1921. Dr. William Oliver Moore, who had been assistant surgeon, was elevated to the position of chief surgeon, and Dr. Harry J. Arnold was elected assistant surgeon to fill the unexpired terms.

Many improvements have been made during the past two years and we are continuing to improve. It is the constant endeavor of the directors and officers to maintain the Home on a high plane of efficiency in every respect. The food is of excellent quality, well cooked and well served.

The barracks are not just as we would wish, as the buildings are very old and practically past improvement. They are all of frame construction, some of them three stories in height and close together. The fire hazard is very great, though we have very greatly improved our fire-fighting facilities. The recommendations of the commandant for new barracks buildings are fully concurred in by the directors, and full reports covering the same are being forwarded under separate cover.

The directors visit the Home as frequently as possible, inspecting the buildings and grounds, dining rooms and kitchens, and all other parts of the Home. In connection with the other improvements, we hope to make the grounds even more beautiful.

Special mention should be made of the library. It is perhaps the most popular adjunct of the Home. Improvements have been under way for the past two years and today we have a library which would do credit to many a small city. It is large, cheerful and comfortable and furnishes to the readers standard works as well as the latest books together with a generous supply of newspapers, magazines and periodicals.

The library and all entertainments and amusements for the membership of the Home are financed by the Post fund, none of which comes from the state treasury.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I desire to thank you for the many courtesies extended to them individually and collectively in administering the affairs of the Home.

Respectfully submitted.

W. D. WAGNER,
President Board of Directors.

REPORT OF THE COMMANDANT.

VETERANS' HOME, Napa County, California,
June 30, 1926.

Subject: Annual report for the seventy-seventh fiscal year.

To: Board of Directors of the Veterans' Home of California.

1. The annual report of the Commandant, together with the reports of the secretary-treasurer, surgeon, quartermaster and chief engineer, for the seventy-seventh fiscal year, ended June 30, 1926, is respectfully submitted herewith. The staff officers in charge of departments have been instructed to render reports in detail, covering the various activities pertaining to their respective departments. This report will cover in general the conduct and needs of the Home.

2. The commandant assumed command of the Veterans' Home of California on March 19, 1926, relieving Colonel Russell C. Martin, who retired to private life. Colonel Martin enjoyed a successful administration and left the affairs of the Home in good condition. Although not present for duty until March of the seventy-seventh fiscal year the commandant will endeavor to render a complete report for the entire period.

3. During the year regular and frequent entertainments have been given and all national holidays have been appropriately observed. Motion picture shows have been presented three times each week which have proved an excellent source of entertainment. Various schools and religious denominations have rendered plays and musical programs, both in the theater and chapel. The social hall and bowling alley, where the men may go to amuse themselves, have been efficiently conducted and have also proved to be an excellent source of entertainment. The Home band rendered a concert each day except Tuesdays and played for all holidays and funerals. The members of the Home have access to an excellent library, well supplied with the best books, magazines, newspapers and is efficiently conducted by an experienced librarian. The government maintains a post office, third class, at the Home.

4. The various religious denominations have held services as they desired and all denominations are represented without discrimination. The manner of conducting religious services, funerals and welfare work at the Veterans' Home should be improved upon, with view of affecting a more definite and concrete arrangement. A staff position of home chaplain (Protestant) should be created, as exist in all of the Soldiers' Homes and Army posts. The duties performed would be similar to those of an army chaplain, he would conduct the regular church services, funerals, entertainments and welfare organizations such as, the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., etc. Members of the Catholic faith are privileged to attend church just outside the gates of the Veterans' Home, as there is a new church located there which has just been recently constructed and a permanent priest maintained.

5. Although a soldiers' home can not be classified as a hospital that element of the Home is very important, as members who become sick in barracks are reported to the hospital for treatment. Many veterans upon admittance to the Home are sent direct to the hospital, owing to their impaired physical condition and upon recovery are assigned to quarters in the barracks, while others are permanent hospital patients. Out of a Home membership of approximately 1000 members, there are about 175 who are receiving some kind of treatment in the hospital at all times, while many quartered in the barracks report at sick call which is held daily for various minor ailments. The hospital is well conducted by the surgeon and his assistants, in spite of the fact that the hospital and its equipment are obsolete. The need of a new fireproof hospital is obvious. An excellent corps of nurses and attendants are maintained as a great deal of careful consideration is devoted to their selection. A dental contract surgeon reports twice each month and treats such cases as time permits. A permanent dentist should be maintained as many of the members are forced to leave the Home in order to obtain dental treatment, oftentimes causing delay and difficulty in securing treatment for serious and painful cases.

6. The various departments have been well conducted and are very well coordinated. Many needed improvements have been affected and plans are being prepared for additional ones. Plans for further development of the grounds surrounding the buildings are being carried out.

7. A thorough and detailed inspection of the buildings on the grounds of the reservation has been made and it is found that those used as barracks are of wooden construction and having been built during the 80's are at present in a condition which renders it imperative that immediate steps be taken to either expend a large sum of money in repairs or replace them with modern fireproof buildings. If repairs are made it would only be a short time until the buildings would again be in need of repairs and the expenditures of money would be greater each time repairs were made, as the entire frame work of the buildings has deteriorated to such an extent that unless the entire set of buildings were practically rebuilt money expended for such repairs would be wasted. The great menace to the present wooden buildings is the fire hazard and this is one which repairs can not minimize, and in the event of a fire occurring during the night in any of these old wooden buildings there would be a serious loss of life as it would be practically impossible for men in the vigor of youth to escape, let alone men weakened by age or infirmities, and all the members of the Veterans' Home are in some way disabled. In the matter of sanitation it is a well known fact that in the present old wooden buildings the beds can not be kept free from bed bugs and no matter what steps are taken to keep them out they reappear, for they live in the floors, walls and ceilings (bed bugs inhabit old wooden buildings) and the frequent use of bed bug poison only serves to drive them into the woodwork. It causes a stench in the rooms and increases the fire hazard, as many of the materials used in the poisoning of bed bugs are of inflammable nature. To replace these old wooden buildings would likewise be an economic measure as concrete buildings can be successfully heated more economically than wooden buildings and the item of repairs and painting would be reduced as well as the upkeep of the buildings, if the same were of fireproof concrete construction.

8. California furnished during the Spanish-American War 206 officers and 5431 enlisted men, all volunteers. California furnished for the World War 135,205 men. There are also a great many Civil War veterans who have long been residents of California and many veterans of all wars who are rapidly becoming residents. The Veterans' Bureau can not financially assist a soldier of the World War unless his disabilities can be traced back to service origin. Men who have become, or may become incapacitated subsequent to the World War can only hope for relief through the soldiers' homes, in case they find themselves unable to provide a living for themselves and families. Many are already applying for admission to the Home, In ten years it is obvious that there will be a great many more, as many veterans of the World War failed to have a record made of their disabilities incurred during their services, for oftentimes these disabilities were slight and at the time seemed negligible, but have subsequently developed and become aggravated. These men the Veterans' Bureau can not financially assist owing to their failure to have some record made of their disabilities incurred at the time. These men will have to be taken care of. The Civil War veterans are all incapacitated. The Spanish-American War veterans are rapidly becoming incapacitated, and are applying for admission. Hospitalization for World War veterans is being applied for.

9. The conduct and discipline of the members of the Home is excellent and is deserving of a great deal of commendation, as the illegal sale of liquor is freely conducted outside the gates, in the vicinity of the reservation.

10. Deep appreciation is expressed for the fine cooperation, kind consideration and hearty support rendered the commandant by the honorable members of the Board of Directors of the Veterans' Home of California.

11. The staff officers, the company captains and all employees are commended for their loyal support and unceasing efforts, which make for an efficient and successful administration.

Most respectfully submitted.

NELSON M. HOLDERMAN,
Colonel-Commandant.

The careful attention given to members in the hospital is shown in the reduced death rate each year, notwithstanding the advanced age of many. Most careful attention is given in selecting nurses and attendants so that personal care may be given to each according to their special needs.

The need of a new hospital building is more apparent each year, as the advancing years of many make it necessary to furnish better facilities for their care. A new hospital is absolutely necessary.

W. OLIVER MOORE,
Major-Surgeon.

REPORT OF QUARTERMASTER-COMMISSARY.

VETERANS' HOME, September 1, 1926.

To the President and Board of Directors,
Veterans' Home of California.

(Through Colonel Nelson M. Holderman, Commandant.)

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to submit herewith a report of the quartermaster-commissary for the seventy-seventh fiscal year, ended June 30, 1926.

The quartermaster's department embraces the commissary, main kitchen, bakery, farm, chicken and hog ranches, dairy, transportation, laundry, clothing, butcher shop, vegetable garden, orchard, mattress and tailor shops and post store.

SUPPLIES.

Our supplies are purchased by the State Purchasing Department at Sacramento, California, and, after being received at the institution, samples are forwarded to the Department of Pure Foods and Drugs, University of California at Berkeley, California, for analysis, and if not found up to the specifications are rejected. It is very gratifying to state that few rejections had to be made.

The contractors furnishing supplies to this institution have all conformed closely to the state specifications with the exception of a very few who attempted to send inferior goods, which goods were at once refused and returned to them at their expense.

EMPLOYEES.

The preference of veterans in employment is strictly adhered to. The proportion of members to civilian help varies slightly. Married employees' quarters are provided with appointments to insure comfort. It must be borne in mind that employees (farm and transportation) are called upon to perform duties other than the regular assignment. Cooperation is the keynote of success.

A new set of quarters has been built for male civilian employees. Quarters have been furnished with new furniture throughout. The quarters are modern and comfortable in every respect and are appreciated.

A new set of quarters for married employees is recommended. Present set of quarters (6) now occupied by married employees is ideal in every respect and much appreciated. The new quarters so recommended are intended for employees without quarters.

WASTE.

The garbage has been carefully handled in a sanitary manner which has resulted in a considerable diminution of the fly nuisance.

All garbage from the kitchen, dining rooms, and restaurant is sent to the hog ranch, materially reducing the cost of feeding.

Old sacks, scrap iron, rubber and junk of any nature are sold to the junk dealers for the best prices obtainable. Authority: Board of Survey. During the year the sale of junk, sacks, etc., realized $583.84.

A new incinerator is now in operation.

KITCHEN.

The food is well cooked and of a very good variety. Our menu shows a very nicely balanced ration for both the older men and the working men, the tables are supplied daily with fresh vegetables and fresh fruit in season. It has always been the aim of the kitchen to serve good, wholesome, and palatable food; in this we have been very successful. The cost of the ration is reported monthly and speaks for itself.

The work in the kitchen has been very closely supervised to prevent waste.

FRUITS.

The orchard has furnished an abundance of fresh fruit during the season; also a splendid yield of prunes, enough being stored to furnish the institution with all prunes needed until the next crop is available. The surplus was sold for $1,238.71.

FARM.

The feed produced during the year has been especially good, both as to weight and quality.

The soil has been enriched with manure and lime, this being well worked into the ground, and by intensive cultivation the yield has been above the average. This is particularly true of the corn, which enables us to carry a full silo. We have produced sufficient hay to feed all stock for the year.

DAIRY.

The herd is in splendid condition. The milk produced during the past year has been of good quality, admitting a good test at all times. Tests are made daily, and when not up to standard, measures are taken to rectify. Milk is served with butter-fat and cream intact. This insures a perfect table milk.

CHICKEN RANCH.

The Home consumes during the year approximately 29,730 dozen eggs. This great quantity can be more readily understood in view of the fact that eggs are served three times a week to main mess, and daily to the hospital, also other requisitions as called for. Therefore, to meet this demand it was necessary to increase the laying stock, and must be continued to prevent open market purchase during the short laying season. Up to present writing a very creditable showing has been accomplished. Eggs produced and not needed for immediate use are put up in "waterglass" and stored.

The rabbitry as established has proven itself a success.

HOG RANCH.

The swine are all of the Tamworth breed (ham and bacon type). They are very prolific and profitable. The herd has been free from disease; mixed infection vaccine has been used on the herd.

Ham and Bacon: Our own production compares very favorably to that purchased by contract. Every effort is made to improve and hold the high standard attained.

VEGETABLE GARDEN.

The Home has been supplied by an abundance of first class vegetables of all varieties.

CLOTHING.

A new uniform, U. S. pattern (dark blue ¾ standard cloth, sky blue kersey in trousers) is provided for issue. A uniform that will conform to standard pattern and washable, for the exclusive use of patients in the hospital, is recommended.

A very fine burial robe, made of blue kersey, uniform pattern with white collar, is now being furnished, and has brought forth many commendable remarks from observers.

LAUNDRY.

The average number of pieces being laundered in one month totals 24,733.

A dry cleaning plant should be installed in connection with laundry, to be used exclusively for uniforms of the men; while the present method of wet scrubbing and dry pressing of uniforms is employed, it could be greatly improved upon through the use of dry cleaning and pressing, conserving the life of the cloth materially.

TRANSPORTATION.

The rolling stock is in good condition. The Reo bus and Ford truck are in fair condition. The light delivery trucks (Reo and Ford) have outlived their usefulness, and will have to be replaced. The life of the machine can not be prolonged through constant expensive repairs and is not warranted. It is therefore recommended to be replaced. It must be borne in mind that these cars are in daily use, particularly so during our present program of construction work.

POST STORE.

The post store, under the supervision of the quartermaster, is a profitable adjunct to the Home, besides being a great convenience to members, officers and employees. A newspaper stand has been added to the post store, which has proven to be a very profitable proposition. A careful inventory of stock is taken every month, a complete report of expenditures and receipts made and the profit ascertained. For the twelve months ended June 30, 1926, the cash profit was $4,360.86, an increase of $1,048.38 over 1925.

Respectfully submitted.

J. P. EDMUNDS,
Captain-Quartermaster.

NEW CONSTRUCTION.

In order to provide a safe enclosure the old fencing at the hog ranch has been removed and replaced with a hog-proof wire fencing and as gates at feeding yards were in a dilapidated condition they were replaced with new ones.

As the sidewalk from the Home grounds to the electric depot during the winter months was wet and muddy a cement sidewalk three feet wide has been placed extending from a point in Home grounds near treasurer's residence, along north side of grounds, to the tracks of the Southern Pacific railroad.

As the old ice-making machine in use here for many years was fast becoming unserviceable and a continued source of expense it was removed and replaced with a modern 10-ton Cyclops ice machine for the manufacture of ice and refrigeration purposes.

As the flooring in several wards of the hospital became worn it was repaired and new flooring placed in the tubercular wards; additional cement sidewalks were placed where needed, and where paint had become soiled it was renewed and as a sanitary measure the floor in the dining room was gone over with a sanding machine and then oiled.

As the flooring in the main dining room had become so badly worn in several places as to become unsafe it was all removed and replaced with new flooring and porch at north side was repaired; flooring laid in different barracks where needed; roofs of the post office and vault at treasurer's office were repaired.

In order to provide quarters for the male kitchen employees and rooms for the storage and preparation of vegetables for main kitchen, a two-story reinforced concrete building with a tile roof was erected; upper floor consists of eleven sleeping rooms, one card room and lavatory with two toilets and one shower bath; all rooms are equipped with steam heat, lavatory with hot and cold water supplies, linoleum on floors and electric fixtures installed; lower floor is partitioned off into three large rooms with cement-finished floor to be used as rooms for the preparation of vegetables and for store rooms.

As the wooden bridges on road to hog ranch and on back road near county highway had become old and unsafe they were removed and replaced with concrete ones.

In order to provide more adequate quarters for the clerks employed in the treasurer's office the building used by them has been remodeled and a new sleeping porch erected.

There has never been any fence on the north and east side of the Home grounds and in order to have a suitable one an ornamental fence has been erected consisting of a 48″ high, 2″ mesh, Standard Cyclone chain link fabric fencing with ornamented posts.

As the old morgue used at the hospital was very inconvenient a room on lower floor of building was remodeled to be used for autopsy and undertaking purposes and a four-body mortuary cooler installed and connections made to present refrigerating machine in use there.

There being no convenient place on Home grounds to repair automobiles a pit has been placed in rear of power house and runway placed over same for convenience in repairing automobiles.

To provide for people using the bowling alley a toilet has been installed there.

As it is necessary at times to provide a certain amount of privacy for some patients in the hospital in the large wards, frames were erected for sliding curtains to be placed around beds where it was necessary.

As the old wooden pipe used for conveying water for irrigation purposes in the vegetable garden was fast becoming unserviceable it was replaced with a 6" concrete pipe line, 2240 feet long, with the necessary risers.

As there was no provision for the accommodation of wheel-chair patients of wards 5 and 6 in wet weather, a concrete slab was placed in yard between those wards so patients may be wheeled out on days of sunshine regardless of the condition of the ground.

There has long been a necessity for a shed to house implements used in orchard and vegetable garden so one was erected in the orchard.

Flooring in the commandant's residence having become worn it was necessary to replace same and in order to provide a floor that would not have to be replaced again in the near future, hardwood floors were laid and, as the interior paint had become soiled and in need of renewing, the interior of building was painted.

As the old paper roof of the dairy barn had become unserviceable and was leaking in several places in order to provide a roof that was lasting and would not have to be renewed for several years a tar and gravel roof with a red brick finish was laid.

The interior of sleeping rooms and hallways in the old power house building that are used as quarters for hospital employees not having been painted for several years and paint work becoming soiled these hallways and sleeping rooms have been painted.

As the cottage used as quarters for the hospital nurses did not have adequate facilities for bathing, the interior of same was remodeled and an additional bath tub, lavatory and toilet installed.

The method used here for the consumption of garbage was not at all satisfactory or efficient so a concrete incinerator has been erected for consuming garbage, etc., at the location on Home grounds used for dumping garbage.

In order to provide for the excess water running down around the hospital during rainy weather and to prevent same from running under the building and thereby weakening the underpinning, a 600-foot concrete gutter was placed where needed to care for storm waters.

There being no bathing facilities in the quarters used for farm laborers a room was partitioned off and a shower bath installed.

In order to locate all pumping operations at wells in front of hospital as well as to remove well houses that had become unsightly, two of the well houses have been removed and wells covered over and the pumps removed and remaining pump installed in well house at lower end of field; wires will soon be run and pump connected up for use in the event same may be required.

As sleeping porch was not large enough at quartermaster's residence same has been remodeled and back porch extended.

In order to provide better facilities for the handling of fuel oil from the tank cars and to remove the buildings there to a better location, the old buildings housing oil pump and boiler used for heating purposes have been removed; oil storage tank has likewise been removed to be used for storage water for irrigation purposes in the vegetable garden; well house along side of tracks has been cut down; new concrete tank for receiving oil from tank cars has been erected; a new pump house for oil pump and boiler for heating purposes has been erected.

As the room used as a reading room in the library had become too small for the use required and in order to provide a room that could be used by those who like to smoke while reading an addition has been placed on the library. This addition has been erected so as to conform with the rest of the building and is now being used.

Owing to the large number of people traveling on the electric railroad there has been provided for their accommodation two lavatories each lavatory equipped with a toilet bowl and wash basin and a drinking fountain has been placed outside of building near track.

Respectfully submitted.

E. C. BORMAN,
Captain-Chief Engineer.

DEAR SIR:

I am transmitting to you a full report of all the facts, circumstances and conditions in connection with the sale of The Valley Bank of Fresno to the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings Bank and Bank of Italy on March 1, 1924 so far as we have ascertained them to date.
